WHITE MOBS SHOOT SCORES OF NEGROES AS HAPLESS BLACKS FLEE BLAZING HOMES

CANVASSERS MAKE FINAL DRIVE TODAY FOR MERCY QUOTA

Red Cross Teams Will Redouble Efforts to Complete Quota of Fund Assigned Atlanta.

STRONG APPEAL MADE TO WORKERS BY DOBBS

Several Large New Subscriptions Reported--Many Subscribers Will Be Asked to Increase Gifts.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN CLOSES AT 12:30 TODAY

The executive committee in charge of the Red Cross campaign on Monday issued a statement declaring that the campaign will close Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock, because "it would be a travesty to celebrate Independence day with the work unfinished." The statement is as follows:

"It would be a travesty to celebrate Independence day with our work for the Red Cross unfinished. The campaign will therefore positively close at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday, July 3.

"In order that we may be sincere in our celebration of July 4th and particularly in order that the citizens of Atlanta may not appear to the country as lacking in patriotism, it is essential that each one of us shall contribute without further delay in the largest sum that we possibly can to the fund to sustain the men who are willing to sacrifice all for us.

"The committee believes that each citizen of Atlanta, man and woman, is willing to do his or her share. Many have not subscribed at all; we feel that many have not subscribed as much as they should.

"Each of the undersigned executive committee makes this a personal appeal to each citizen of Atlanta to subscribe or increase his subscription before the campaign closes. Respectfully,

"EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE:
H. P. Hermance, Chairman;
JOHN E. MURPHY,
SAMUEL C. DOBBS,
WILMER L. MOORE,
DR. W. S. ELKIN,
BEN Z. PHILLIPS,
P. S. ARKWRIGHT.

"Atlanta cannot fail in this great work," declared S. C. Dobbs, who presided over the Red Cross luncheon at the chamber of commerce Monday. "It is a great task to raise $61,293.57 in twenty-four hours, but we can do it, and we will do it."

The total subscription to noon Monday was $188,707.43, leaving a balance of $61,293.57 to be raised before the necessary $250,000 will be reached.

Mr. Dobbs made a strong appeal to the several hundred workers assembled at the luncheon, and outlined plans for the last day of the campaign, which will end today at 12:30, whether the Atlanta's $250,000 allotment has been reached or not. The executive committee announced Monday that under no circumstances would the campaign be extended longer than that time.

Woman Are Lauded.

There was much enthusiasm displayed at the luncheon, and praise of the women workers was particularly strong. The women reported $17,000 from their activities Saturday, while the men's committees realized $15,197.37 for their last twenty-four hours' work.

A telegram from the war department at Washington was read at the luncheon, congratulating Atlanta upon the enthusiasm with which the campaign is being waged.

A number of peculiarly interesting donations were reported Monday by various workers. A two-cent stamp contribution by a negro washerwoman was auctioned and went to St. Elmo Massengale at $25. One woman worker announced that a handsome bed-

WANT AD RECOGNITION!

As a thoroughly conclusive evidence of the recognized value of want ad advertising in selling merchandise, you will see in the classified columns of The Constitution every morning three, four and five-line ads from some of Atlanta's most prominent dealers in commodities and supplies of one kind or another.

Under the classification of business cards, these pithy little "publicitors" give you a quick, direct introduction to concerns you can patronize with the absolute assurance of getting the highest standard of value in whatever they advertise, and of prompt and satisfactory service!

Over 10,000 Teutons Taken By Soldiers of New Russia And Battle Still Continues

REVENUE OFFICER MUST STAND TRIAL FOR KILLING NASH

T. B. Harris, Who Shot Down Blind Tiger Suspect in Raid on Saturday, Now Out Under $1,000 Bond.

NASH DIED LAST NIGHT AT THE GRADY HOSPITAL

Assistant Solicitor E. A. Stephens Is Now Making a Thorough Investigation. Friends Pushing Probe.

Jonas Nash, blind-tiger suspect, who was shot down by Revenue Officer T. B. Harris late Saturday afternoon in a raid on his home, 112 West Fair street, died at 10:30 o'clock last night at the Grady hospital, where he had been a patient since he was wounded.

His slayer was arrested by deputy sheriffs on Monday afternoon and was charged with assault with intent to murder. He was released upon giving $1,000 bond, and at an early hour this morning had not been rearrested following the death of his victim.

The solicitor's office, acting on the request of friends of Nash, is making a searching investigation, and Monday afternoon Assistant Solicitor E. A. Stephens said that every effort would be made to secure all the light possible on the shooting.

Mr. Stephens stated that only self-defense could justify the shooting of Nash. His offense, at its greatest, he pointed out, could not have been more than a misdemeanor.

Charge of Murder.

When informed of the death of Nash last night by The Constitution Mr. Stephens stated that in all probability a charge of murder would be made against the revenue officer, as soon as the grand jury meets.

D. C. Yellowley, who is in charge of the internal revenue department here, stated last night that the case would be removed to the federal courts and that the state courts would have no jurisdiction over the matter. In cases where a federal officer is involved, while in the performance of his duty, he has the privilege of electing a trial in the United States court.

T. B. Harris could not be reached last night for a statement as to his side of the case, but he stated immediately after the shooting that it was a clear case of self-defense and that he did not shoot until he was forced to do so in order to save his own life.

Story of Harris.

Harris informed Chief Mayo that Nash had come out of the house with a large bottle filled with booze and had started to smash the bottle. He was ordered to drop the bottle by the revenue officer, and then, according to Harris, advanced upon him with an ax, and swung at him with it. Then, said Harris, he fired to protect his life.

Nash was shot by the officer during a raid on his home by officers in search of whisky. The raid was made by Deputy Revenue Collectors T. B. Harris, J. A. Henderson, C. L. Freeman and G. S. Alexander, detailed from the internal revenue department. They were accompanied by Mounted Policemen Lon Evans and Sam Webb.

ANOTHER $25,000,000 LOANED GREAT BRITAIN

Britain Gets $585,000,000 of $1,043,000,000 Loaned to Allies.

Washington, July 2.—Twenty-five million dollars was placed to the credit of Great Britain today by Secretary McAdoo, bringing the loans to that nation up to $585,000,000, and the total loaned all the allies to $1,043,000,000.

Final Curtain Falls For Sir Herbert Tree, Noted English Actor

He Had Been Ill Several Days, But It Was Supposed That He Would Recover.

London, July 2.—Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, the actor died tonight.

Sir Herbert, who had made many public appearances since his return from the United States delivering addresses describing his experiences in America, had been ill for several days.

It was announced that he had successfully undergone an operation and, according to latest reports, he was making satisfactory progress toward recovery. His death, announced tonight, was therefore somewhat unexpected.

A friend who visited Sir Herbert today found him, as he described it, "as well as ever." This evening, however, he had a heart attack and the end came very quickly, the famous actor dying at 8 o'clock.

Sir Herbert had a slight accident June 16. He slipped while descending a stair case and strained the ligaments of his right knee. He underwent an operation June 21 which proved to be somewhat serious, but was expected to lead to his complete recovery. The attending surgeons, however, insisted upon the cancellation of all Sir Herbert's engagements so that he could enjoy complete seclusion and rest.

Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, a popular figure on the stage in London for nearly forty years, was the best known in the United States of the English actor-managers. Sir Herbert appeared in New York last winter in an adaptation of Thackeray's Colonel Newcome and returned to London late in May. Sir Herbert was the manager of His Majesty's theater and was president of the Theatrical Managers' association, succeeding the late Sir Henry Irving in that capacity.

The son of Julius Beerbohm, a grain merchant, Sir Herbert was born in London December 17, 1853. He was educated in England and in Germany and in 1870 entered his father's office. Soon afterward he became interested in amateur theatricals and gradually drifted into the profession, appearing in various London theaters as an amateur in 1876. In the next few years his position on the English stage was firmly established and in 1883 he made a big hit at the Globe as Prince Borowski in "The Glass of Fashion." In 1884 he originated the role of the Rev. Robert Spalding in "The Private Secretary."

In January, 1895, he came to the United States for the first time and made his first appearance in New York late in the same month. He played the familiar part of Svengali in "Trilby" for the first time in London late in 1895. About that time he appeared more often in Shakespearean plays and in June, 1909, he was knighted by King Edward.

He Leaves Rich Church To Accept Pastorate Of Suburban Mission

Knoxville, Tenn., July 2.—Rev. J. Lee Keevil has resigned as pastor of the Fifth Avenue Christian church, paying $200 per month, with a handsome parsonage, to accept the pastorate of a suburban mission at $75 per month. He is emulating the example of his father who gave twenty-five years of his life to building up small churches to powerful parishes.

COTTON CONTROL BY GOVERNMENT

Provided in the Food Measure—Administration Leaders Will Invoke Cloture to Limit Debate.

Washington, July 2.—Controversy in the senate over the food control bill and its prohibition feature reached such an acute stage today that formal steps were taken by administration leaders to limit debate and force a final vote this week by invoking, for the first time, the senate's new cloture rule.

Within a half hour many more than the necessary sixteen senators' signatures to a cloture motion were secured. Senator Chamberlain, in charge of the bill, announced to the senate later that he would offer the motion tomorrow and ask for a vote upon it Thursday. Its adoption would require a two-thirds vote and thereafter would limit each senator's time upon the bill and all amendments to one hour.

Many senators say that until the prohibitions issue is settled the necessary two-thirds vote for cloture cannot be secured. Others point out, however, that the vote on shutting off debate at least will "show up" on the record those not in favor of expediting the bill as desired by the president.

Control Extended to Cotton.

The movement for use of the cloture rule, adopted after the filibuster last winter over the army neutral bill, came after the senate had adopted the measure by a vote of 42 to 16, extending government control, in addition to food and fuels, to iron and steel, copper, cotton, wool, hides and skins, lead, platinum, fertilizers, farm implements, hemp and other binding twine materials and their products.

A fast and furious skirmish on prohibition occurred for a half hour just before the senate recessed tonight to meet an hour earlier than usual tomorrow. The "wets" and "drys" clashed when Senator Penrose, opposing any attempt at cloture, suggested that prohibition's friends had been delaying action. Senator Jones, of Washington, vehemently denied the charge and asserted that the delay has been caused by prohibition opponents.

Senator Sheppard asked unanimous consent for a vote tomorrow on the liquor question, but Senator Penrose objected.

The dispute over prohibition was opened anew by the action of the agriculture committee, in approving, 6 to 5, an amendment by Senator Gore proposing that manufacture of distilled spirits shall be prohibited and the president given power to suspend the making of beer and wines. The committee rejected, 8 to 4, the so-called "administration compromise" plan of Senator Chamberlain limiting prohibition to distilled beverages without any action regarding malt and vinous intoxicants.

Both Sides Predict Victory.

Leaders of both "wet" and "dry" factions tonight were predicting victory in the prospective, open, clean-cut fight in the senate over empowering the president to deal with light beverages.

Although there was some change of sentiment in favor of the Gore substitute, the general belief was that a substitute drawn today by Senator Martin, democratic leader, similar to the Chamberlain amendment—prohibiting only beverage distillation—would be adopted. The prohibition fight is not expected to reach the senate floor until late this week.

Senator Chamberlain, with approval of the agriculture committee, had planned to hold the senate in session

Russian Artillery for Two Days Poured Rain of Iron That Turned the German Positions Into a Crater Field.

RUSSIAN ARMY WAS LED IN FORWARD MOVEMENT BY MINISTER KERENSKY

War Minister Rode to the Front Trenches, Placed Himself at Head of Troops and Gave Order to Advance—Advance Causes Wave of Rejoicing in Russia.

New York, July 2.—(By Associated Press. From European cables of the Day.)—Prisoners exceeding 10,000 and the capture of the village of Koniuchy and strongly fortified positions southwest of Brzezany are the first fruits of the new offensive movement of the Russian forces in eastern Galicia. North of Koniuchy the Russians have attacked and fresh battles are in progress.

The Russian artillery, long inactive from lack of shells, played an important part in the defeat of the Austro-Germans at Koniuchy. For two days a rain of iron was thrown into the German positions, and Berlin says officially that they were turned into a crater field. The Russians not only carried three lines of German trenches and Koniuchy, which was strongly fortified, but also advanced to the Koniuchy stream south of the village, which is on the Zlota Lipa river.

Around Brzezany the fighting was most bitter and Berlin claims that sixteen Russian divisions were thrown forward. The Russians carried the fortified Teuton positions at several points in face of a desperate resistance by Austrian, German and Turkish troops.

Minister of War Kerensky personally led the Russian revolutionary army in its forward movement, and in a message to Premier Lvoff says that the offensive "proved to Russia and the entire world its fidelity to the revolution and its love for liberty and country."

The premier has authorized Minister Kerensky to give the regiments which participated in the fighting of July 1 red revolutionary flags and the name, "Regiments July 1."

On the western front there has been little marked activity. Both the British and Germans have carried out raids in the area around Lens and northward. On the Aisne front, between Cerney and Ailles the French have regained a line of trenches from the Germans after spirited fighting.

On the Trentino south of Riva the Austrians have attacked Italian positions between Lake Garda and the Ledro valley. Rome reports that all the

At Mayor Candler's Request Police Commissioners Are Authorized to Swear In All Organizations They Desire.

FAVOR THE EXTENSION OF FIREMEN'S PENSION

C. D. Meador and W. A. Hancock Elected Tax Assessors — Council Refuses to Create Position for L. M. Landrum.

Atlanta's various "Home Guard" organizations will soon be clothed with police authority as the result of an ordinance passed by general council on Monday afternoon at the direct request of Mayor Asa G. Candler.

The matter of selecting the organizations to be sworn in and given the authority of special officers, to preserve order and protect property, is left within the discretion of the board of police commissioners.

Before being given this power they will be examined by the board or by police officers, assigned to this duty, who will pass upon their physical ability to maintain order, while the board itself is directed to look into their moral qualities.

Extend Pension Benefits.

Among a number of other important actions taken by council was the decision to extend the pension benefit system in the fire department, if a charter amendment can be secured, and the refusal to create a position of business manager in the school department for former Superintendent L. M. Landrum, this request being made by the board of education.

The request of the board for certain transfers of monies in the department to the salary of a business manager was tabled, after a favorable conference committee report of 4 to 2. This means that for the present the plan to have Professor L. M. Landrum fill this position has been killed. Councilman A. J. Orme later gave notice that he expected to have the request of the education board reconsidered at the next meeting of council, which holds the matter in abeyance.

C. D. Meador was re-elected tax assessor. J. S. Sewell was defeated for the position of tax assessor by W. A. Hancock, the vote standing 17 to 12.

Dr. J. G. Hall was re-elected city physician. Dr. J. C. Wilkins was also re-elected city physician, defeating his opponent, Dr. S. P. Warnock, by a vote of 16 to 13.

Arthur A. Craig was elected a member of the park board from the seventh ward.

Kelley's Resolution Lost.

By adopting an adverse report of the park committee, the resolution of Alderman Kelley, to appeal to the legislature for annullment of the law requiring the city to lay aside annually $10,000 to build a cyclorama building at the end of ten years, was killed.

Council voted among other things to condemn certain properties on Bellwood avenue in order that the work of widening this street might be gone ahead with.

To ask the legislature to amend the city charter so as to do away with the expenditure to the newspapers of Atlanta of $10,000 annually in the advertising of marshals' deeds, and to advertise these deeds by posting them at the county courthouse.

To bar boys under 16 years of age and girls under 12 years of age from selling either newspapers or magazines on the streets of Atlanta.

To appeal to the legislature for charter amendment whereby it will be illegal for council to make any changes in the salary of a city official during the term of office of that official.

Committees Are Named.

A committee of three was authorized to aid the city attorney in presenting the city's claims for certain charter amendments at the present legislature, the committee appointed by Mayor Pro Tem. Kelley being as follows: Councilmen J. R. Nutting, Orme and Alderman Steve R. Johnston.

A committee will look into the location of two public comfort stations somewhere in the city, the committee being named by the mayor pro tem, as follows: Councilmen Johnson, Orme, Landers and Aldermen Seawright and Ewing.

Among the things that council came near to doing but did not do was to pass up the greatly modified muzzling ordinance of Councilman J. R. Nutting. This proposed ordinance, greatly modified from the one that recently met a one-vote defeat in council, was introduced with the sanction of the board of health attached to it. Councilman Orme, who led the fight against it before, attempted to have the ordinance tabled. The vote of this motion indicated that Councilman Nutting would probably receive [illegible] council meeting was doomed to disappointment later, though, when Councilman Orme moved to have the proposed ordinance [illegible] where it is understood it will be reported adversely. The measure was referred by a vote of 14 to 12.

MURDER AND ARSON IN HIGH CARNIVAL AT EAST ST. LOUIS FOR DAY AND NIGHT

Negro District Was Fired and as the Blacks Fled to Escape the Flames They Were Shot to Death by Hundreds of Waiting White Men.

RIFLES TAKEN BY MOBS; NATIONAL GUARDSMEN STOOD AND WATCHED

Estimates of Number of Dead Negroes Range From 75 to 250—Property Loss Will Total About $3,000,000—When Rioting Was at Its Height White Women and Girls Joined in Attacks on the Negroes.

East St. Louis, Ill., July 2.—Negroes to an unknown number were killed by white mobs which worked their will in East St. Louis today and tonight. Estimates of the dead range from 75 to 250.

State's Attorney Schaumloeffel, of St. Clair county, drove through the riot-swept district tonight with Police Inspector Walsh, of St. Louis, Mo. The state's attorney estimated that the dead negroes would number 250. All estimates, however, are conjectural.

NEGROES SHOT FLEEING FIRE.

The negroes were shot and killed as they fled from their burning homes which had been set on fire by white mobs. The exact number who perished in the burning houses, if any, is unknown and will not be ascertained until morning when the ruins are searched.

Military rule was proclaimed at 8 o'clock tonight, and at the same time 300 white men were arrested and locked up at police headquarters. Negro quarters in various parts of the city are on fire and the flames reach the very edge of the business district.

Hundreds of whites stood around the edges of the burning districts and fired at the negroes as they fled from their homes.

After military rule had been proclaimed, the soldiers put more vigor into their attempts to quell the mob.

ONE NEGRO ATTACKED BY 75 WHITE MEN.

Seventy-five white men attacked a negro in front of a drug store downtown and shot him twice and attempted to drag him to a pole. The troops charged with fixed bayonets and the mob scattered.

With this show of force, the rioters in part quieted down. Troops stood guard at all corners and kept the crowds moving.

At 6:30 o'clock fire broke out in the

The Last Day of the Red Cross Honor Roll

Atlanta is approximately $55,000 short of her $250,000 allotment for the $100,000,000 National Red Cross Fund.

Unless this amount is subscribed this morning the word must go out to the country at large that this city was one of the very few municipalities of the entire nation that failed to do its part. Already the great majority of American cities have reported not only the full allotment assigned to them, but have in most instances gone beyond the mark.

Atlanta last night was but 20 per cent under her $250,000 total, and every citizen who is not already on the list is urged to see to it this morning before noon that his or her name is either given to one of the many committees who will be at work canvassing the city, or that it is telephoned to The Constitution, who will see to it that it is properly listed.

Many Atlantans for one reason or another have delayed making their subscriptions. Today is their last opportunity.

Many of those who have already subscribed are increasing their subscriptions. Today also gives them their last chance to do their full bit.

The general committee, at its meeting Monday, had reported to it a total of $188,000, and other subscriptions came in during the afternoon—but a little more than $50,000 remains to complete the job.

For the fair name of Atlanta, the general committee calls upon the city this morning to complete the fund.

If you have not done your bit, think how you will feel when the lists come in from "Somewhere in France," and district known as the "alley." This fire came perilously near the big railroad yards of East St. Louis. At 9 o'clock four more negroes were shot. At 10 o'clock it appeared as if the "valley" district was doomed to destruction. This is the third large area to be burned.

The property loss was estimated by City Attorney Fekete at $3,000,000.

Forty injured negroes and six injured white men were in one hospital and almost an equal number in another.

At 11 p. m. another fire had broken out in the extreme northern portion of the city. This brought the burning sections up to four, lighting the entire city, with their glare.

Colonel Tripp, assistant adjutant general, stated shortly before midnight that the rioting crowds had for the most part dispersed.

Nearly 500 negroes, men, women and children, are quartered in the city hall and the police station.

At frequent intervals all evening and until late tonight trucks brought negro refugees from burning sections to augment the group at these refugee buildings, where a strong guard of troops was stationed.

GUARDSMEN SENT TO MEET NEGROES.

When a report came to military authorities that negro inhabitants at Brooklyn, Ill., a city entirely populated by negroes, were moving on East St. Louis, a truck full of guardsmen was sent to the "black" bridge to meet any attack that might be attempted.

At the same time another truck load of soldiers was rushed to a corner near the postoffice, where negroes, barricaded in upstairs quarters, had been firing at soldiers standing guard in the street below.

The worst property damage was done along the tracks of the Southern Railroad company, where the Southern warehouse and between 100 and 150 cars, many of them loaded with merchandise, were consumed by flames. The damage here was estimated at between $300,000 and $500,000.

The Broadway theater, valued at $100,000, was entirely destroyed and at 11 p. m. the flames were moving steadily along the tracks, almost unhindered.

Colonel Tripp stated at 11:30 tonight that twenty-three companies of state troops would be in the city before midnight, all but three companies of which were then on guard. The combined strength of the troops to combat trouble tomorrow, he said, would be several thousand. Colonel Tripp early tonight rescued a negro from the mob and City Attorney Fekete later rescued another.

Vast clouds of smoke rolled across the sky tonight from the burning district. The flames made some of the downtown streets as light as day and now and then a yelling mob rushed down a street in pursuit of a negro or in search of new excitement. National guardsmen, loaded in automobile trucks, dashed after the mob. The shouting died down occasionally as bewildered people walked up and down the streets wondering where the last outbreak occurred.

Negro Women With Children.

The fire started about 6 o'clock this evening and spread rapidly. Soon flames, visible for miles, were shooting into the sky. Hundreds of negro women, most of them carrying bundles that held their most precious belongings and leading small children, fled across the bridge to shelter and safety with friends on the Missouri side.

Telephone wires were cut early in the evening. As telegraph and telephone poles caught fire other wires went down.

The mobs in East St. Louis were swelled by hundreds of people who early in the evening crossed the river from St. Louis, Mo. This added such a menace to the situation that at 8:30 o'clock the bridges were closed. This forced hundreds of residents of suburban towns to stay in St. Louis for the night.

As soon as street car traffic ended at 7 p. m. crowds walked across the bridge into East St. Louis by the thousands.

The mobs got into a lynching mood tonight. One negro was strung up on a pole, but was rescued just in time to save his life. Soldiers rescued still another negro who was being dragged through the streets.

The rioting is a recrudescence of race troubles that occurred here a month ago, following the importation of large numbers of negro laborers from the south.

White women and girls, joining with the men, dragged negro women from the street cars in the downtown district.

At six o'clock white mobs began to set fire to the homes in the negro quarter, and at 7:15 twenty houses were burning.

White Girls Drag Negro Woman.

Two young white girls tonight boarded a street car and dragged a negro woman to the street. The negro woman attempted to break away, but one of the young girls took off her shoe and pounded her over the head. National guardsmen rescued her.

At 8:30 o'clock a mob of 300 armed men charged into a negro district on Third street with flaming torches. Before they could start a new blaze, however, two hundred guardsmen charged with fixed bayonets. The troops fired a volley over the heads of the mob, which dispersed.

A battle between whites and blacks broke out at the east entrance to the St. Louis municipal bridge. Guardsmen hurried there in trucks and ended the combat. One of the white men killed tonight was Tom Moore, of Granite City. He was standing beside a soldier when a bullet struck him.

Two white men tied a rope around the neck of a negro and started to pull him into the air. The rope broke and the white men fell flat on their backs. The negro dropped to the ground dead.

As three negroes were trying to escape from a burning building a mob spied them. One negro was hanged to a telephone pole and the other two were shot. The three bodies were left in the street.

State Troopers Disarmed.

State troopers were disarmed by the mobs in many instances and together with the police seemed powerless before the rioters.

The disorder, which began when a mob of two hundred negroes fired on an automobile load of policemen last night, killing one, reached a climax in the broad daylight this afternoon. In this outbreak three negro men and one white man were killed, two white men and two negroes were shot and wounded, and twenty-three others so badly beaten and stoned that they were taken to hospitals.

Tonight, with the saloons closed and street car service stopped by order of the authorities, national guardsmen began escorting truck loads of negroes across the river.

The two white men who were shot and the one who was killed were victims of stray bullets.

Sixteen guardsmen were disarmed by members of the mob, who calmly asked the soldiers to give them the weapons lest the guardsmen "hurt some one in the crowd."

Mayor Mollman ordered the saloons closed at noon and it was hoped that this measure would prevent any serious outbreak tonight.

The guardsmen, according to the commander, Major William Klauser, patrolled the streets with rifles, but were under instructions to confine aggressive measures to the bayonet. During the rioting of the afternoon, no member of the mob was seriously hurt by a guardsman, and the outbreaks continued in the heart of the city.

The immediate cause of the rioting today was the outbreak of negroes late last night, but for several days there had been evidences of bad blood, and on Saturday night several minor clashes between whites and blacks occurred.

Negroes Fire on Officers.

The clashes Saturday night apparently alarmed the negro quarter of the city, or at least gave agitators a chance to organize the blacks for fighting. When word was telephoned to police headquarters that the ringing of a church bell had called the armed negroes together, an automobile loaded with police left for the scene to disperse the crowd. The officers were greeted with a volley. Detective Sergeant Coppedge was killed and three policemen were wounded. One detective, Frank Wodley, now is in the hospital in a critical condition. The police chauffeur also was wounded. Jay Long, a white man, was wounded in an earlier attack.

Police reinforcements early this morning dispersed the mob of negroes and shortly after 3 a. m. Mayor Mollman asked Governor Lowden to send national guardsmen here to preserve order.

Two companies of the guard arrived about 9:30 and were assigned to duty in the negro quarter. Up to that hour the streets were quiet and it seemed as though the day would pass quietly.

The first trouble occurred when a negro appeared at Broadway and Collinsville avenue, one of the busiest corners in the city, and an important street car transfer point. A white man fired at him five times. Two of the shots took effect, one in the arm and one in the leg. As the crowd, thinking the negro was dead, fell back, he jumped up and ran.

Mob Cowed Officers.

The police arrested the man who fired the shot, but the threatening mob forced the officers to release him.

One of the national guard companies then was ordered from the negro quarter to the business section, but the arrival of the troops seemed to arouse the increasing mobs to further aggression.

No accurate count of the number of negroes attacked was obtainable, many, of course, getting away with slight injuries.

At 1:30 the rioting grew more serious. A car was stopped, the trolley pulled from the wire and a mob invaded the coach. One negro was taken off and shot. He died in an ambulance. While this disturbance was raging another car appeared. The car was halted and women and girls boarded it, and seizing negro women, dragged them into the streets, where they were beaten.

A few minutes later one black was shot in the head. Another negro man died in an ambulance from a wound in the head.

Some of the men in the mob began to fire. William Keyser, a hardware merchant, was killed by a stray bullet.

One negro was shot and killed as he was waiting for a train to take him out of town.

About 5 o'clock a mob raided a pawn shop and carried away rifles and revolvers.

Race Troubles Began in May.

The race troubles here began late in May as a result of the heavy influx of negro labor. Labor leaders then expressed a fear that the negro labor was being imported to break anticipated strikes during the summer.

On May 28 a crowd of white men demanded of the city council that the negro immigration be stopped. After the meeting adjourned race riots occurred.

The next day state troops arrived. There was considerable disturbance the night of May 29, two white men and three negroes being shot, but within a day or two order was restored and a few days later the troops were withdrawn.

An investigation by the state council of defense was made and they reported that labor agents had induced negroes to come here from the south. This report was made public last Saturday. Up to that time there had been no serious indications of a renewal of the rioting.

KERENSKY LEADS RUSSIAN TROOPS AGAINST GERMANS

Petrograd, July 2.—The brilliant Russian advance, the news of which has sent a wave of rejoicing through the entire country, was led by War Minister Kerensky in person.

For the last four days the war minister has been continuously at the front, spending every effort to urge the troops to advance. He finally rode to the front line trenches, and, placing himself at the head of the troops, gave the order to advance.

The spectacle of the popular war minister on the firing line accomplished what oratory had failed to do, and the Russian line swept forward into the German trenches.

In his message to Premier Lvoff the war minister says:

"On July 1 the army of revolutionary Russia took the offensive with great enthusiasm. The offensive proved to Russia and the entire world its fidelity to the revolution and its love for liberty and country. Ignoring the small groups of cowardly souls, the free Russian soldiers are consolidating by their offensive a new discipline based on the sentiment of civic duty.

"Whatever may happen, this puts an end to all slanderous attacks against the democratic Russian army. I beg of you to authorize me to hand to the regiments which participated in the fighting on July 1 red revolutionary flags and give to them the name 'Regiments July First.'"

Premier Lvoff granted the requests.

The commander of the armies on the western front has issued an order of the day reading:

"Our army on the southwestern front has vanquished the enemy and broken his lines. A decisive battle has begun on which depends the fate of the liberty of the Russian people. Our brothers on the southwestern front are advancing victoriously. They expect assistance from us. We shall not be traitors; the enemy shall hear the thunder of our guns."

RUSSIAN ADVANCE STILL IN PROGRESS.

Petrograd, July 2.—Up to the hour of telegraphing the advance of the Russian army in Galicia was still in progress. A dispatch received by the war ministry, but unpublished, says that the staff of the Russian army in Galicia is more than satisfied with the progress made.

Never was an offensive so auspiciously begun. The local army staff was pleased with the speed of the advance as the operations which the staff had expected would take two days, was executed yesterday between the hours of 2 and 9 o'clock.

All the latest telegrams to the war ministry agree that the soldiers are in excellent spirits and the ministry authorizes the statement that preparations as regards munitions and equipment are in better shape than in any preceding period of the war.

The new chief of the war ministry information department is Lieutenant Perun, who also is a member of the executive committee of the council of deputies. Lieutenant Perun has just returned from the front, where he witnessed War Minister Kerensky's crusade in favor of an immediate offensive. The lieutenant told the Associated Press that the great eloquence of Minister Kerensky was largely responsible for the change in the army's mood. The lieutenant was present when Kerensky, having told the soldiers that if they would not attack he would march toward the enemy's trenches alone, was embraced and kissed by the soldiers.

Lieutenant Perun mentioned one division, especially known for its unwillingness to fight which after the minister's speeches became the most militant on the front.

"The army," said the lieutenant, "was reborn under my eyes."

The minds of the soldiers, he said, are thoroughly permeated with Russia's new political program.

KERENSKY APPEALS TO ALL RUSS ARMIES.

Petrograd, July 2.—War Minister Kerensky has issued an appeal to all the Russian armies to take the offensive. He says that Austria and Germany have replied to Russia's appeal to all democracies in favor of peace by the dishonorable proposal that Russia should conclude a separate peace which would enable them to crush Russia's western allies.

On Russia's rejection of the proposal, the enemy, says the war minister, threatened an offensive against Russia and the freedom of the country and the revolution itself were in danger. The appeal concludes:

"Every day's delay strengthens the enemy. That is why we appeal to our armies to take the offensive. Let all the world know that it was not from weakness that we talked of peace. Let it be known that liberty increases our military strength. All Russia will bless your exploits in behalf of liberty, your country's future and an honorable and lasting peace."

PRISONERS TAKEN BY THE RUSSIANS RUN TO THOUSANDS

Petrograd, July 2.—Russian troops have captured Koniuchy, on the Galician front, together with 164 officers and 8,400 men, the war office announced today.

The Russian official announcement says that the Russians have advanced to the Koniuchy stream and also have captured seven heavy guns. Teuton prisoners continue to be brought in.

The number of prisoners taken in the various sectors on Sunday is more than 10,000. Southwest of Brzezany the Russians occupied strongly fortified positions of the enemy.

The statement says some of the Russian detachments suffered severe losses, especially in officers.

The official announcement reads as follows:

"Western (Russian) Front: In the direction of Kovel (Volhynia), in the region of Rudkasitorichskaya, our scouts, under command of four officers, after destroying the fire entanglements by mines, penetrated the enemy's trenches, killed some of their occupants and captured a number of prisoners. According to the testimony of prisoners, the Austrians knew of our attack from two deserters, Senior Non-Commissioned Officer Karsokin and Private Kolotuinov. An investigation is being made by the authorities of the regiment to which the soldiers named belonged.

"In the direction of Zlochoff, after two days' artillery preparation, our troops attacked the Austro-German positions on the Koniuchy-Byshk front. After a severe engagement they occupied three lines of trenches and the fortified village of Koniuchy, and advanced to the Koniuchy stream to the south of the village of the same name.

"As a result of the engagement on Sunday, 164 officers and 8,400 soldiers have been counted so far as prisoners We also took seven guns and seven machine guns. Prisoners continue to come in.

"Southwest of Brzezany, after artillery preparation, our troops attacked the strongly fortified position of the enemy, and after stubborn fighting occupied them at places. Germans and Turks made counter attacks and formidable positions changed hands constantly.

"On Sunday we captured on this front nine officers and 1,700 Germans, Austrians and Turks. Some of our detachments sustained severe losses, especially of officers.

"Altogether on Sunday we took prisoner 173 officers and more than 10,000 soldiers. We also captured seven guns and seven machine guns.

GERMANS ADMIT LOSS OF VILLAGE.

Berlin, July 2.—(Via London.)—The German official statement issued today says that the Galician village of Koniuchy was lost yesterday to the Russians, but that the Russian mass attack was "caught up in a barring position." A fresh Russian attack against this position, the statement adds, was frustrated.

The German general staff says the Russian losses surpassed any measure hitherto known. Some Russian units, it reports, were entirely dispersed.

The text of the German announcement dealing with the eastern front says:

"Eastern Theater—Army Group of Prince Leopold: The Russian attack Sunday between the upper Stripa and the eastern bank of the Narayuvka led to heavy fighting. The pressure of the Russians was directed chiefly against the Koniuchy sector and the lines to the east and south of Brzezany.

"An exceedingly strong artillery preparation which lasted two days turned our positions into a crater field against which enemy regiments stormed throughout the day. The village of Koniuchy was lost.

"The Russian mass attack was caught up in a prepared barring position and a fresh attack against this barring position was frustrated. The fighting was especially bitter on both sides of Brzezany.

"Sixteen Russian divisions, constantly employing fresh troops, assaulted our positions there which were completely maintained or recaptured by counter attacks by Saxon, Rhineland and Ottoman divisions, their brave defense swaying the battle. The Russian losses surpassed any measure hitherto known. Some units have been entirely dispersed.

"Along the Stokhod and on the Dniester the lively artillery activity of the Russians continues.

"To the north of the Kowel-Lutsk railway line an attack of the enemy broke down before the front of an Austro-Hungarian division.

"On the front of both other armies there was notihng of importance to report."

The supplementary official statement from general headquarters, issued this evening, says:

"There is nothing to report in the east. At Koniuchy the Russian attacks broke down.

"Further north fresh battles have developed."

RUSSIANS STORMED AUSTRIAN POSITIONS.

Vienna, July 2.—(Via London.)—The official communication from general headquarters issued today reads:

"Between the Narayuvka and Stripa rivers the enemy yesterday threw dense infantry masses into the battle in his usual reckless way, indifferent to the heavy losses which our artillery had already inflicted on him. He pushed his assaulting waves forward into hand to hand conflicts, continuously employing close masses of reserves. At least twenty infantry divisions gradually came to grips with our troops.

"On the whole of a fifty-kilometer fighting front an infantry battle raged with utmost violence and bitterness. During these engagements the enemy was for the greater part repulsed before our first-line trenches.

"The heaviest masse dattacks were directed against the region south of Brzezany and at Koniuchy, where the Russians were repulsed in our barring positions. All the enemy attacks were repulsed, including those made today to push forward in these regions. The enemy suffered exceedingly heavy losses.

Tonight! Take Dodson's Liver Tone! Better Than Calomel For Liver
Calomel sickens! If bilious, constipated and headachy read my guarantee.
Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work!
Calomel is mercury or quicksilver, which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile, crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.
Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight, and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning, I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it cannot salivate or make you sick.
I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless, doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

LAST CHANCE TO HELP RED CROSS TODAY

Today Atlantans will have their last chance to help the Red Cross. Canvassing committes are making a final drive to complete the quota of $250,000 assigned this city as her part of the war fund. Over $60,000 is still needed. Every man and woman in this city is urged to give, and to give this morning, as the campaign officially closes at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

In last Saturday's edition The Constitution published the complete list of subscribers up to that time. The subscribers from Friday night up to the present time are included in the list which follows:

You Who Would Know the Late News of Fashions and—Savings

This is at once an exposition of what the new apparel for midsummer wear is and a sale—a sale of the C.-J.-DuB. Clearaway variety.

Our buyer was in New York recently and to splendid advantage—he found several choice groups of dresses, of skirts, of coats, of suits, the things that are the summer wardrobe of the woman who is going on a vacation—of the woman who is staying in town. He found them at prices considerably under their value. These and other apparel from our own stocks make this an occasion of style—and money-value.

Taffeta Dresses $15.00 and $19.75

It is a fact worth mentioning that we have many taffeta dresses at $15.00 that are selling in one of the great stores of New York at $19.50. It was really a master-stroke to get such styles at these prices. Lots of navy and black taffetas, some of them embroidered, aside from the striped and figured taffetas and charmingly patterned foulards. Draped variously—and pocketed. Styles that women will thoroughly enjoy wearing. Those at $19.75 are $25.00 and $29.75 values.

Georgette Dresses $18.75 and $21.75

White and flesh colored Georgettes, as dainty as a peach blossom with tiny beaded designs about their square yokes and flat collars, with fagoting everywhere it could be used effectively. Then there are others of navy Georgette in similar styles. At these prices they are remarkable values—possible because our buyer was in New York at the right moment.

Net Dresses $9.75 and $14.75

The savings possible here are full-sized C.-J.-DuB. Clearaway Savings. For instance, we have reduced net dresses that were $15.00 and $19.75 to $9.75; others that were $23.75 and $25.00, are $14.75.

Plain nets, nets combined with organdie, figured and flecked nets, embroidered, lace-trimmed, having satin girdles. Some are ruffled, some are plaited, some are handkerchief draped, some are corded, some have little coatees. Choice, wide choice.

Linen Dresses $9.75 Were $15.00 to $18.50

They smack of vacation trips and lovely service. They are of pre-shrunk French linen in white, blue, pink. Tailored models with little pipings and bands of contrasting color about the sleeves, collars and pockets; others are combined with voile (voile sleeves and panels over the hips) embroidered in colors; others are coatee effects. Indeed, they simulate linen coat suits. We've an idea values such as these will not last long.

Wash Skirts, Values $2.95 and $3.95

We claim distinction for the wash skirts! Claim it on the score of the materials, sturdy fabrics that will stand tubbing over and over again—the pearl buttons are clear, faultless. Claim it on the score of the thoroughness of the shrinking they have undergone. Claim it on the score of their styles. So nicely tailored, no rough seams, instead everything trim and even. More models than we could list—plaited and plain, pocketed, shirred. Aside from the gabardines, there are cordelines and novelty piques. Many of these at $3.95 are reduced from $5.00 and $5.75!

Taffeta Skirts $8.75 Were $9.95 to $12.50

Navy and black taffeta skirts—lustrous taffetas of a quality so soft and so evenly woven that women will at once appreciate the fineness.

Rather severely tailored styles of nice fullness, plaited styles, styles with shirring at the belt, yoked styles. So many styles that it is but a question of choosing the one you like best.

Sport Skirts $12.50 Were $15.00 to $19.50

But there are only eight of them.

Individual styles of khaki-kool, pussy willow taffeta and poplin in light shades—oyster and white—striped, blocked and figured in the gay sport shades. Smart affairs with ornamental and utilitarian pockets and lovely girdles.

Military Capes of Serge $12.50

Full flowing affairs of navy serge, big collars of white whipcord, trimmed with rows of white buttons.

They have loose inside tie-belts.

Taffeta Coats $9.75 and $14.75

The coats that so many vacationers must have for cool mornings and evenings.

Black and navy taffeta—shirred over the hips, belted and plaited, yoked styles.

Those at $9.75 are coats that ordinarily are $17.85 and $19.75.

Those at $14.75 are coats that ordinarily are $21.75 and $25.00.

Jersey Silk Coats Reduced to $5.75

By the special purchase route we obtained a lot of these coats to sell at $8.75—and all but these ten went quickly. Women saw in them, as women will see in these, that they were $15.00 values. Of Jersey silk, silk in gold and purple, plain and trimmed with contrasting colors—to be disposed of at $5.75.

Light Wool Coats $10, $12.50, $19.75

These were $15.00, $18.75 and up to $25.00—but we are minded now to make quick work of them. Choose from navy serges, from velours and gunniburls, in the green, brown, tan, rose shades liked this season. Belted models, plain, flaring models, models gathered in at the waist.

Coats for Automobilists

One at $6.50 is a sturdy affair of real weighty linen crash in the deep natural shade. It has a belt, turn-back cuffs, many closely placed bone buttons down the front—SERVICE.

Another style, of gray mohair, has turn-back cuffs, flap pockets, belt, wide collar. It will not crush. $7.50.

Smart Serge Suits Are Underpriced

We found in New York a maker who was willing to convert his remaining stock of spring-weight serges into suits of late models. We have these now for those who will soon be off on vacation trips—at $19.75, $25.00, $28.75 and $35.00. Bought in the usual way these suits would be $29.50, $35.00 and $45.00. Navy and black, in plain and semi-tailored models—on the latter a great many buttons are used.

Taffeta Suits Reduced to $14.75

There are fourteen, originally they were $25.00 and $29.75. Three blacks, two tans, two royal blues (trimmed with gold), six navy blues—being from our own stocks, they are models of this season's approved styles.

Two taffeta suits, one navy, one black, that were originally $45.00, are $18.75.

6 Pongee Suits and Dresses $9.75

Such a little lot that we hesitate to mention it. Three sport suits, striped coat, natural color pongee skirts, three dresses of natural pongee, long coatee effects. Originally these were $23.75 and $25.00.

Two Silks Reduced to $28.75

$28.75 is almost one-fourth of their original price. They are novelty suits—show pieces we might call them. One is of gold khaki-kool, one is of jade Yo San. Both are gorgeously embroidered.

Riding Habits of Khaki

Just unpacked.

They come with long coat and breeches, or with medium length coat and divided skirt.

At $12.50 and $15.00, with divided skirt, at $15.00 and $19.50, with breeches.

Norfolk coats and "very military" coats with flap pockets.

Owing to the extreme price reductions none of these items can be exchanged or returned for credit.

FOOD CRISIS COMING ATLANTA IS WARNED

Necesssity of Conservation Vigorously Urged by Dr. A. M. Soule, H. G. Hastings and J. J. Brown.

A ringing rebuke was delivered to a city of 200,000 which had turned out but a mere handful of hearers to an occasion held for the purpose of preparing against what is heralded as the gravest food crisis not only in the history of America, but also of the world, when Dr. A. M. Soule, head of the State Agricultural college, spoke at the auditorium last night at a meeting in the interest of food conservation.

"It is high time that we were waking up to the perils which confront us," said Dr. Soule. "I am astonished that Atlanta, with a population of 200,000, should turn out but a handful to a meeting of such an important nature as this.

"Shall we continue going on our selfish way as long as we can see food in the shop windows, and feel the pennies in our pockets to buy a loaf of bread with? Do you know that this crisis is going to mean actual sacrifices—sacrifices which pinch and hurt, and that while it affects some men's pocketbooks, it is going to affect the stomachs of others accustomed to plentiful food?

"Do you also know that if every citizen of Atlanta today began eating one roll less, or one slice of bread less, or a piece of beefsteak, or a cut of ham less, it would make an appreciable difference in the crisis which is soon to strike us?

"I am not attempting to criticise, but I want to make the people of this town and state understand the full gravity of the perils ahead. Upon you depends the feeding of the world, and the world must be fed even though we suffer. You should learn before it is too late that everything you save—every sacrifice you make—is going to help the cause of our bleeding allies, and to keep in circulation the life-blood of civilization.

"In helping the cause of agriculture, as I am doing in my official capacity, I feel that I am a soldier of the United States—and I'm proud of it. I can do as helpful a service as if I wore the khaki and fought in the trenches. It might not be as heroic a service, but it would be even more effective than that of the man who fights with shot and shell and steel.

"Every time you practice self-denial and economy; every time you save a can of beans, or deny yourself, you do as much as the man who bayonets a German in this world struggle. You men and women and children of Atlanta and Georgia—you are to be mobilized as a vital part of the United States army, and you will have to serve as faithfully and honorably as the men who go abroad to fight."

The small crowd which gathered in Taft hall to hear the exponents of food conservation, which included J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture for Georgia; H. G. Hastings, president Georgia chamber of commerce, and Frank Reynolds, publicist, manifested keen enthusiasm. Governor Hugh M. Dorsey, who had been scheduled to deliver an address, was prevented because of the press of business, following his inauguration.

A vigorous plea for a land tax in order to bring about a sub-division of farm properties was made by Commissioner Brown in a brief address, in which he, also, urged the people of town and country to self-denial and conservation. In order to split up the vast farm estates in Georgia a land tax was necessary, he said. This would enable the small tennants, who represent 40 per cent of the soil tillers in Georgia, according to the speaker, to gain control of the farm lands.

"Millions of acres are being held in Georgia," he said, "for speculation. These acres should be sub-divided and sold on easy terms to the men who till them. Until you inaugurate the land tax system, depression will continue over Georgia."

A burst of applause greeted the commissioner when he told of how Georgia was waking to the food crisis, and said that more than half of the counties of the state had been organized in the determined campaign for food production and conservation now being waged over the state, and that prospects indicated that nearly every county and public-spirited organization in the state would be heart and soul in the movement in a remarkably short time.

"All the big forces in the state have united," he said, "and as a partial result, Georgia will this year witness the harvesting of one of the most enormous crops of its history."

Mr. Hastings dwelled on the invaluable form of service to be rendered by the civilian and farmer—a service comparable only to that rendered by the man in the trenches. The nation is facing a world-wide food shortage—a shortage, he said, whch would have to be overcome by America, and America alone. The world is turning to us for sustenance, he asserted.

He impressed upon his hearers the gospel of the clean plate. The man who leaves food on his plate upon arising from the table, said the speaker, will be a criminal. And in this connection he admonished Americans for their wasteful spirit, a national shortcoming, which, the speaker predicted, would be eliminated when America had emerged from the sufferings and self-denials of the war.

"An entire French family can subsist on what the average American family wastes in a day," he said.

LABOUCHER DID NOT REPRESENT FRANCE IN COTTON PURCHASE

The Constitution has received a letter from the high commissioner of the French republic in the United States, whose headquarters are in Washington, in which it is stated that Rob Laboucher, of Havre, France, who was recently in Atlanta, does not represent France in the purchase of cotton for the government.

"I beg to inform you," the letter says, in part, "that Mr. Rob Laboucher has never been sent to the United States by the French government in order to negotiate for shipments of cotton to be used for manufacturing powder.

"In fact Mr. Laboucher never had from the French government an official mission of any kind."

Mr. Laboucher's interview was published on June 25. It is probable that Mr. Laboucher was misunderstood in what he said about his mission in this country, and that he stated he was here to buy cotton for private businesses in France, rather than for his government.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY TO INVEST IN OIL PROPERTY

Paterson Oil Company's Attractive Proposition—Oil Well Being Drilled in Mobile Oil Field—You Can Secure Interest in This Property by Buying Lots at $5 Cash and Balance of $5 From Dividends.

Are you going to be too late to purchase your oil lots in the W. B. Paterson Oil company? It is better to have bought than to have wished you had. You know we are drilling every day with the fastest drilling rig in the Mobile field, and no faster rig was ever made, drilling the largest hole yet undertaken with our own organization of experienced careful drillers co-operating with our local geologist and expert formation man, who watches every foot of the returns from the well as drilled.

A large number of the lots have already been bought by Mobile people, about a lot for every man in Mobile according to the population, and they are daily buying as are the Atlanta citizens and elsewhere. So you have not a day to delay, if you wish to make sure of your purchase. The Company reserves the right to withdraw the sale of lots at any date without notice.

The Mobile oil fields are a proven territory, in the opinion of the experts, and the Paterson Oil company expects to bring in a big well at the first oil sands found in this field, about 2,000 feet, though the company is prepared with pipe on the ground for a depth of 3,500 or more feet if necessary.

All lot owners share alike in proportion to their holdings, no matter upon whose lot or lots the well or wells are to be drilled, and returns are made in full to the lot owners, the company retaining no royalty.

The W. B. Paterson Oil company is interested in developing large acreage, which the present subdivision of 80 acres is a part and can be more liberal than otherwise would be possible.

Application for lots should be accompanied by the purchase price of $5 per lot; the remaining $5 per lot is collected from dividends. Deed is given upon the payment of $5. Offices of the company, Nos. 418-19-20 Empire bldg., Atlanta, Phone Ivy 6374.—Advertisement.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy. Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—(adv.)

HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION INDORSES ROAD BILLS

Measures Would Allow Direct State Appropriations and Co-operation of Counties.

At a luncheon of a number of members and officials of the Georgia State Highway association at the Ansley hotel yesterday at noon, the two bills designed to facilitate the improvement of Georgia's highways, recently drafted by Judge T. E. Patterson, chairman of the State Highway commission, and Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, attorney for the Georgia State Automobile association, met with approval. The two bills will probably be introduced in the house and senate Tuesday or Thursday, there being no session of either branch Wednesday.

One of these bills is a constitutional amendment, which would amend the appropriations paragraph of the constitution, which is paragraph 1 of section 1 of article 7, so as to allow the state to make direct appropriations "for the construction, improvement and maintenance of state highways." Under the present form of the constitution it is impossible for the state to make any direct appropriation for internal improvements, this provision having been made to check the waste of the state's money and resources by the "carpetbaggers" during the days of the reconstruction, need for which protection to the state has now vanished. This bill would not only allow the state to make direct appropriations, issue bonds and otherwise finance road improvement and maintenance, but would make it easier for the state to comply with the federal good roads statute and receive the federal appropriation allotted to this state upon compliance with the act.

The other bill is an amendment to section 431, of the code of 1910, in order to make the following provision:

"That the counties desiring to co-operate in inter-county improvements, as provided in this and the three preceding sections of this code, shall have the authority to issue bonds in accordance with the constitution and laws of this state upon such terms and conditions as the authorities of the counties desiring to co-operate may jointly decide."

By this means the stronger counties would be enabled to aid the weaker counties in the construction of continuous inter-county permanent highways.

Preventing Accidents.

At the luncheon of the association also the question of suitable legislation and other means of preventing or reducing accidents at grade crossings of railroads was discussed, Moultrie Hitt, of the Atlanta and West Point; M. A. Ramsey, of the Central of Georgia, and officials of other railroads being present.

Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Hitt suggested that the legislature be asked to pass a law requiring motorists to come to a complete stop and to look and listen before crossing the tracks at a grade crossing. Mr. Ramsey stated that while but one employee of the Central had been accidentally killed in the last half a dozen years, there have been ten deaths resultant from automobile accidents at grade crossings of that road in the last year, due in every case to failure of the motorist to take proper precautions. Mr. Ramsey stated his road and, he believed, all the other roads in Georgia would be willing to put up the recently adopted standard warning posts several hundred yards from the tracks at crossings, providing the counties will undertake the maintenance and upkeep of these signs after they have been put up. The Georgia State Automobile association will endeavor to secure this co-operation on the part of the counties. Judge T. E. Patterson, chairman of the state highway commission, strongly favored the enactment of the legislation suggested by the railroad representatives.

The matter of making arrangements for the entertainment of the Bankhead highway scouting party which is to come to Atlanta from Washington over the Bankhead highway's proposed route was taken up and a committee on entertainment and co-operation will be announced in a day or so.

Jackson to Celebrate Fourth.

Jackson, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—Jackson will observe July 4 by all the business houses closing for the day. Forsyth and Jackson will play two games of baseball on that day.

MANY BILLS READY FOR LOWER HOUSE

Measures Introduced Monday and Will Receive Consideration as Soon as Committees Are Named.

The hotly contested race for the speakership and the more or less strenuous details of the inauguration of a new governor disposed of, the house prepared to get down to real business Monday by the introduction of some fifty or sixty new bills for its consideration. These bills were committed to the various committees of the house, the personnel of which is yet to be announced by Speaker John N. Holder. It is expected that these committees will be named by Thursday, however, and that on that day the mill will begin to grind upon the grist which was submitted Monday and which will be introduced Tuesday.

The senate was not in session Monday, but will be in session Tuesday, as will also the house. Both branches of the general assembly will adjourn for the Fourth of July, and many of the solons will accept the invitation of the city of Athens to be its guests for the day.

Among the more important bills introduced in the house Monday was a bill to create in Georgia the Torrens system of land title registration, this bill being introduced by Mr. Barfied, of Bibb, and Mr. Johnson, of Appling, and receiving location upon the calendar as house bill No. 1.

A number of bills were introduced, by Mr. Bale of Floyd, Mr. Trammell of Harris, Mr. Stovall of McDuffie and others, calling for the out-and-out repeal of the tax equalization tax act, without offering any substitute for the present act. Mr. Kidd of Baker introduced a bill for bi-ennial session of the legislature and a bill of similar import was introduced by Mr. Fowler of Bibb. The Neill primary election bill, which was vetoed by Governor Harris last year, and Mr. Neill's bill for the Australian ballot system were reintroduced. Three bills, one each by Mr. Jones of Coweta, Mr. Smith of Dade and the Laurens county delegation were introduced to provide for county levy of local school tax.

The introduction of new matter comprised the entire day's work of the house The complete list is given elsewhere in these columns.

NEGROES WILL GIVE RED CROSS BENEFIT

Star Colored Attractions Will Be Seen at Auditorium Tonight.

An opportunity to hear some of the best negro musical talent will be given Atlantans tonight, when the colored citizens of Atlanta will give a performance at the Auditorium, the entire proceeds to go to the Red Cross.

Special arrangements have been made for seating both white and colored people, and a large attendance is expected.

One of the best numbers on the program will be an act by Mabel Whitman, recently of the Palace theater, New York city.

Other attractions include: Anita Bush Stock company, Johnnie McBride, the whistling boy; Master Goldberg, boy singer; the Dixieland Four, with George Cochran, soloist; Bucker & Fields, Dandy Dixie Boys.

HONOR ATLANTA WOMAN

Mrs. Arkwright Put on Natoinal Red Cross Body.

Mrs. Preston Arkwright has been appointed a member of the women's advisory committee of the American Red Cross. Announcement to this effect was made at the Red Cross luncheon Monday and a letter was read from Eliot Wadsworth, acting as chairman of the Red Cross, advising Mrs. Arkwright of her honor.

Mrs. Arkwright's appointment to this important position is considered not only a personal distinction, but a great credit to Atlanta and the south. The committee is headed by Mrs. W. K. Draper, of New York, and is composed of a number of the foremost women in America. They are: Miss Mary G. Goodwillie, of Baltimore; Mrs. E. H. Harriman, of New York; Mrs. Joseph Cudahy, of Chicago; Mrs. Frank V. Hammar, of St. Louis; Miss Lavania Newell, of Boston; Mrs. George Wharton Pepper, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Leonard Wood, of Charleston, and Miss Mabel T. Beardman, of Washington.

Mrs. Arkwright stated that she had accepted the appointment and would serve to the very best of her ability.

Washington Calls for Georgia Inventor of A Submarine Enemy

Cairo, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—W. R. Hawthorn, of this county, has been summoned to Washington by wire in connection with an invention he has submitted to the government.

While details of the invention and the working plans have been kept secret, it is known that Mr. Hawthorn's invention deals with destroying or curtailing the submarine menace.

STATION OF CREOSOTE IS NOW CAMP HARRIS

Macon, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—Announcement was made today by the Central of Georgia railway that the name of the flag stop at Camp Harris has been changed from Creosote to Camp Harris and that an agency will be established there shortly.

Stops will be made at the camp by all passenger trains on flag. The sale of railroad tickets at the camp will be placed in the hands of the Parker Railway News company.

JAR FOR A MONEY BANK; FIRE CAME; LOST ALL

Rome, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—One hundred and fifteen dollars in money, placed for safekeeping in a fruit jar in the kitchen at the home of Mr. James Goddard on East Main street, was destroyed in a fire which greatly damaged the building early Saturday morning and destroyed all the contents.

CAMBRIA STEEL CO. MAY COME TO GEORGIA

Savannah, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—The Cambria Steel company, one of the largest steel corporations in the country, whose main plant is at Johnstown, Pa., is said to be getting options at various places throughout the country and, according to a well-founded rumor, is looking toward Savannah as a point for shipyards.

It has been generally rumored that the Cambria would turn to a share in the shipbuilding industry since Charles M. Schwab secured Sparrow's Point, near Baltimore, as the scene of shipbuilding activities for the Bethlehem Steel industries.

The Cambria interests, which have been at Johnstown for years, have been greatly enlarged since the war began and have been combined with other large interests, making the company one of the biggest competitors in the steel market.

Advices from Philadelphia are to the effect that the company is getting options in various places in the south.

RURAL CARRIERS MEET IN MACON WEDNESDAY

Macon, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—The rural letter carriers of Georgia will meet in Macon Wednesday for a two days' session, the meeting to be featured by addresses by Senator Hardwick and Congressman Wise, of the Sixth district. The indications are there will be between 700 and 1,000 carriers in attendance.

The state association of carriers is headed by G. C. Bond, of Elberton. W. A. Keown, of Rome, is secretary and treasurer.

No official program for the meeting has yet been announced. The meetings will be held at the Hotel Dempsey auditorium.

Ice-Mint Fine For Tired, Burning Feet

Wonderful Relief for Sore, Aching, Tender Feet, Painful Corns and Calluses.

Rub a little, soothing, cooling Ice-Mint on those poor tired, swollen, burning feet. Ah! what a relief.

How cool, easy and comfortable it makes them feel. Under the soothing, cooling influence of Ice-Mint, corns and painful calluses stop hurting and you will want to dance for joy. No humbug. Just try Ice-Mint once. It will make your poor old tired feet feel so cool, easy and comfortable that you will just sigh with relief. Corns and painful calluses are strangers to the friends of Ice-Mint.

ICE-MINT

is a clean, creamy, snow-white substance whose medicinal qualities come from the dewy fields of old Japan where the people have the best cared-for little feet on earth. No matter what you have tried, or how many times you have been disappointed, you will revel in the cooling, soothing comfort that Ice-Mint brings.

CLARENCE TALLEY GIVEN HEAVY FINE AND BOUND OVER

Clarence Talley, 21, of 15 Currier street, who was driving the car which seriously injured Artie Maddox, 20, of 15 Holley street, Sunday at West Peachtree and Fourteenth street, was fined $100, sent to the city stockade for 30 days and his license was revoked for the same period at a hearing before Recorder Johnson yesterday morning.

He was also placed under $1,000 bond for violation of section fifteen of the state automobile law, which prohibits the running of any machine while under the influence of liquor.

Testimony of witnesses was to the effect that Talley was driving his car at the rate of 30 miles an hour when the automobile hit another car, turned into a telegraph pole and finally crashed into the motorcycle on which Maddox was riding. Maddox was removed to Grady hospital, where his injuries were reported serious. He was later removed to his home.

Talley pleaded not guilty to all charges and stated that his brake failed to work when he was in the act of shifting gears.

YOUNGSTERS ARRESTED ON BURGLARY CHARGES

Ralph Peters, 16, of Edgewood; O'Dell Lewis, 16, of near Emory university, and King Graham, 15, of 8 Connally street, were arrested early Monday morning after an exciting chase by the police, after, it is alleged, they broke into the store of C. W. Hatcher & Co., 246 Marietta street.

After the police arrived on the scene a search lasting about an hour was necessary to disclose the hiding place of the youngsters, who were concealed in a big pile of rubbish. Graham was committed to the juvenile court and the others will be arraigned before the recorder.

Mrs. Roy Organizes Branch League for Woman's Service

Mrs. Dunbar Roy has organized a local branch of the National League for Woman's Service and several of her committees are engaged in an active patriotic work. The branch was organized on Saturday morning at the league headquarters, with Mrs. Roy chairman, Mrs. Robert Alston secretary, Miss Buckmaster corresponding secretary and treasurer. Chairmen of committees are: Mrs. George Harrington, motor driving; Mrs. Joseph Moody, wireless telegraphy, map reading and signaling; Mrs. Mabel Gentry Peper, household economics; Mrs. B. M. Martin, filing and registration; Miss Isolene Campbell, canteen committee, assisted by Mrs. Robert Troutman and Miss Le Blanc; social service, Mrs. Hugh Dorsey, Mrs. W. H. Kiser; Mrs. Wilmer Moore, knitting, sewing, etc; Mrs. Robert Adger Smythe, ways and means committee; Miss Buckmaster, general service.

Mrs. George Harrington will organize today in the league headquarters her third class in motor driving. Already Mrs. Harrington has forwarded to national headquarters the certificates of twenty-one young women who have graduated in the regulation course of motor driving. She was the initiative spirit in the women driving the machines in the Red Cross parade Saturday, and the story of the efficiency of the Atlanta women drivers of the cars who helped during the disaster of the fire has been commended by the national press.

The local branch of the National League for Woman's Service will give a card party this week for the accumulation of organization funds, and a midsummer carnival is being planned.

Madame Cousin initiated a sewing class in the league rooms yesterday, one of the purposes of which is to make children's clothing with a view to aiding in the social service work for the children of men in the army and the navy, this coming under emergency relief work.

Miss Ponder's Tea.

Miss Lelia Ponder entertained at afternoon tea yesterday at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue, inviting fifty young ladies to meet Miss Gladys Cassels, of Savannah, the guest of Miss Rudene Becht, and Miss Marjorie Cutts, of Savannah, the guest of Miss Henrietta Davis.

Sweetpeas and all the midsummer garden flowers decorated the house, and dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Ponder was becomingly gowned in white.

She was assisted in entertaining by Misses Elizabeth Kontz, Elizabeth Anderson, of Marrietta; Venice Mayson and Mildred Woodward.

To Miss Cassels.

In compliment to Miss Gladys Cassels, of Savannah, who is the guest of Miss Rudene Becht, Miss Martha Louise Cassels will entertain at bridge Thursday.

Miss Becht will entertain twenty young ladies this morning, and the guests are invited to bring their knitting.

Tonight Miss Marie Stoddard will give a picnic at Lakewood.

To Visitors.

Miss Fielder Poses for Universal Film Company.

Miss Aileen Fielder posed for a series of pictures last week for the Universal Film company. The invitations came to her following the story in The Constitution which described the unique compliment paid Miss Fielder by Harry Chisam, of the British aviation corps, who named for her his aeroplane, which has done perilous duty on the war front. The machine is called the Aileen. Mr. Chisam met Miss Fielder at a ball at the Piedmont Driving club December, 1915, just previous to leaving this country, to join the British aviation corps. He is a native of Carlisle, England.

The First Cry

Every woman's sympathy responds to the sweetness of a baby's voice. The little cry that echoes with the arrival of the new baby is perhaps the fondest and most cherished recollection of our lives.

Thousands of mothers owe their preservation to health and strength to the wonderful preparation "Mother's Friend". This is an external application which is applied to the abdominal muscles. It relieves the tension, prevents tenderness and pain at the crisis and enables the abdomen to expand gently. The muscles contract naturally after baby arrives and the form is thus preserved.

It should be applied daily, night and morning, during the period of expectation. Its influence on the fine network of nerves and ligaments just beneath the skin is wonderful. It renders them pliant, and in this way aids nature to expand the abdomen without the usual strain when baby is born.

You will find this wonderful preparation on sale at every drug store. "Mother's Friend" is prepared by the Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. C, 46 Lamar Building, Atlanta, Ga. They will send you an intensely interesting book, without charge, "Motherhood and the Baby". Write them to mail it to you. It is of the utmost importance that every expectant mother aid nature in her work. Do not neglect for a single night to use "Mother's Friend". It is absolutely and entirely safe.

DRUGGISTS PRAISE DE-NAUSEATED CALOMEL

Triumph of Modern Pharmacy Marketed Under the Trade-Name "Calotabs"--All Medicinal Virtues Retained—Sickening and Dangerous Effects Removed.

The impossible of yesterday is the accomplishment of today; the ingenuity of man seems almost unlimited. Inventions and discoveries follow each other in rapid succession. For years we have been taking our calomel with never a thought that its nauseating, griping and dangerous qualities could be avoided.

Now comes the new triumph of modern pharmacy, the calomel tablet that is so entirely purified from the nauseating and objectionable qualities that the manufacturers authorize druggists everywhere to refund the price if Calotabs causes the slightest unpleasantness. The next time you are bilious or constipated try Calotabs. The effect is entirely delightful. One tablet at bedtime with a swallow of water. No taste, no unpleasantness of any kind. Next morning you awake feeling fine, liver cleansed, system purified, appetite hearty. Eat what you please—no danger.

The genuine Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages—never in bulk, twenty doses for thirty-five cents and your money back if you are not thoroughly delighted. At drug-stores everywhere.—(adv.)

REGULATIONS TO GOVERN BOARDS OF EXEMPTION ANNOUNCED BY WILSON

There Will Be No Class Exemptions, and President Warns Boards They Must Show No Partiality.

PROCESS OF SELECTION TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER

September 1 Is the Tentative Date for Calling Men to Colors for Training, and It Is Believed There Will Be No Serious Delay.

Washington, July 2.—Preparation for the mobilization of the first contingent of 625,000 troops of the national army advanced another step today when President Wilson promulgated the regulations to govern exemptions from military service.

Local and appeal exemption boards already have been appointed and the issuance of the regulations will permit them to organize immediately and prepare for the concluding phases of the task of getting the men under training for duty in France.

In the order in which they must come there are three steps in the organization process of the national army as prescribed by congress.

They are registration, selection and exemption. The first step has been carried through and approximately 10,000,000 men between 21 and 31 years of age have been registered. The regulations issued today cover in detail the operation of the third step, exemption.

Information concerning the second step in the series, however, still is lacking and officials are guarding closely the method by which selection is to be applied.

The Selection Process Later.

The exemption regulations announced that the boards will be advised of the selection process later, although none of the steps prescribed except the organization of the boards can be carried on until the selection machinery has furnished the names of the men of whose fitness and desirability for army service the boards are to judge. There is one hint, however, as to how the selection machinery is to work. The local boards are directed upon organization to take over from the registration precincts the cards and lists of the men registered on June 5 and as their first duty to provide a serial number for each registration card. This has given support to the belief that the selection drawing was to be made in Washington.

Presumably the process of selection will be announced only a short time before it is put in operation. When that will be is not known. September 1 has been the tentative date set for calling the 625,000 of the first contingent to the colors for training. Progress with construction of the sixteen divisional cantonments for the troops will govern that action, however. It now is believed there will be no serious delay.

The exemption process will not take a great deal of time. Regulations provide that decision in any individual case shall not be delayed more than three days by the local board or an additional five days where appeal is taken to the district boards. The whole process probably can be carried through in less than thirty days.

There were no surprises in the exemption regulations. The task of passing upon the individual cases is left entirely to the local boards. While the president reserves the right to designate industries necessary for the public good, the question of whether retention of any individual engaged in these industries is essential is left to the boards.

Finding Officers for Force.

While these steps are being carried out for getting together the men of the national army, the war department is making progress with the even more difficult task of finding officers for the force. Part of these will come from the sixteen officers' training camps. The first ten thousand of the forty thousand men at the camps will be selected for commissions in the first increment of the new army. That is less than half the number of officers necessary. The war department today approved recommendations of commanders of regular regiments which will commission 3,000 or more regular non-commissioned officers to be captains or lieutenants in the first 625,000 of the national army. It is understood that more than fifty men from each regiment, in addition to those now at the officers' training camps, will be given commissions for the period of the war.

A trained and experienced regular officer will command each regiment of the national army. To aid him he will have several other regular officers experienced in particular lines, such as his adjutant, at least one major, his ordnance and quartermaster officers and some others. The remainder of the officers will come from the reserve lists, the training camps or the ranks of the regular service.

No Class Exemptions.

The exemption regulations issued today set forth in great detail the method of arriving at exemptions and the work generally of the local district boards already named to carry out the task.

Exemptions regulations add little to the terms of the draft law, the question of whether a man between the ages of 21 and 30 is entitled to exemption because of dependents, the nature of his occupation or physical unfitness being for the boards to decide after proper investigation. It is made very clear, however, that there are to be no class exemptions and that each individual case must be decided upon its merits.

The local boards—one for each county of less than 34,000 population or city of 30,000, with additional boards where necessary for each additional 30,000 population—will pass upon claims for exemptions except those based upon industrial or agriculture occupation, subject to appeal to the district boards. All cases involving agricultural or industrial exemptions will be passed upon by the district boards—one for each federal judicial district—which will also decide appeals from decisions of the local boards.

Men to Be Called September 1.

In the near future a date will be set by Brigadier General Crowder, provost marshal general, for the meeting and organization of the boards. At the same time it is expected that the regulations will be promulgated so that the process may be put under way without delay. The present intention is to call the men selected to the colors about September 1, or as soon thereafter as the cantonments to house them can be completed.

In a statement accompanying the announcement of the regulations, the president called upon the boards to do their work fearlessly and impartially and to remember that "our armies at the front will be strengthened and sustained if they be composed of men free from any sense of injustice in their mode of selection."

The statement follows:

"The regulations which I am today causing to be promulgated, pursuant to the direction of the selective service law, cover the remaining steps of the plan for calling into the service of the United States qualified men from those who have registered; those selected as the result of this process to contribute, with the regular army, the national guard and the navy, the fighting forces of the nation, all of which forces are under the terms of the law placed in a position of equal right, dignity and responsibility with the members of all other military forces.

"The regulations have been drawn with a view to the needs and circumstances of the whole country and provide a system which it is expected will work with the least inequality and personal hardship. Any system of selecting men for military service, whether voluntary or involuntary in its operation, necessarily selects some men to bear the burden of danger and sacrifice for the whole nation. The system here provided places all men of military age upon an even plane and then, by a selection which neither favors the one nor penalizes the other, calls out the requisite number for service.

Boards Urged to Be Just.

"The successful operation of this law and of these regulations depends necessarily upon the loyalty, patriotism and justice of the members of the boards to whom its operation is committed, and I admonish every member of every local board and of every district board to review that their duty to their country requires an impartial and fearless performance of the delicate and difficult duties intrusted to them. They should remember as to each individual case presented to them that they are called upon to adjudicate the most sacred rights of the individual and to preserve untarnished the honor of the nation.

"Our armies at the front will be strengthened and sustained if they are composed of men free from any sense of injustice in their mode of selection, and they will be inspired to loftier efforts in behalf of a country which the citizens called upon to perform high public functions perform them with justice, fearlessness and impartiality."

Upon organizing, the local boards will take over from the registration boards all registration cards, which they will number serially and list for posting to public view. Then, after having been advised of the method by which the order of liability for service shall be determined and of the quota to be drawn from its territory (minus credits for enlistments in the national guard or regular army) each board will prepare a list of persons designated for service in the order of their liability, post the list, give it to the press and within three days send notice to each designated person by mail.

As the men so notified appear, the boards first will make a physical examination in accordance with special regulations to be provided, bearing in mind that all persons accepted by them will be re-examined by army surgeons. If the physical examination is passed successfully, then comes the question of exemption.

Persons to Be Exempted.

Persons who must be exempted or discharged by the local board include:

Officers of the United States, of the states, territories and the District of Columbia, ministers of religion, students of divinity, persons in the military or naval service of the United States, subjects of Germany, all other aliens who have not taken out first papers, county or municipal officers, custom house clerks, workmen in federal armories, arsenals and navy yards, persons in the federal service designated by the president for exemption, pilots, merchant marine sailors, those with a status with respect to dependents which renders their exclusion desirable (a married man with dependent wife or child, son of a dependent widow, son of a dependent, aged or infirm parent, or brother of dependent orphan child under sixteen years of age); those found morally deficient and any member of any well recognized religious sect existing May 18, 1917, whose creed forbids participation in war and whose religious conviction accord with the creed.

Claims for exemption because of dependent may be made by the man himself, his wife or other dependents, or by a third party who has personally investigated the case. A claim made by the husband must be accompanied by supporting affidavits signed by the wife and by the head of a family residing in the same territory. A claim by the wife or a third party must be accompanied by two supporting affidavits signed by heads of families. Similar rules govern claims on the grounds of other dependents, the dependents or third parties being authorized to file claims with supporting affidavits. In each case the board must be satisfied before it grants exemption or discharge that the dependent or dependents actually are supported mainly by the fruits of the man's mental or physical labor.

Local boards are required, subject to appeal, to pass upon claims for exemption or discharge within three days after the filing of affidavits.

District boards must decide appeal cases within five days after the closing of proofs and their decisions are final. If the ruling of a local board is affirmed the person in question stands finally accepted for military service.

In Passing on Claims.

In passing on claims for exemptions on the ground of employment in necessary industrial and agricultural occupations the district boards must be convinced that the particular enterprise affording such employment actually is necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment or national interest during the emergency.

"The evidence must also establish," the regulations say, "even if the particular industrial enterprise or particular agricultural enterprise is found necessary for one of the above purposes, that the continuance of such person therein is necessary to the maintenance thereof and that he cannot be replaced by another person without direct, substantial material loss and detriment to the adequate and effective operation of the particular industrial enterprise or agricultural enterprise which he is engaged."

Later the president may from time to time designate certain industries or classes of industries that are necessary and the district boards will be so notified. It will be the duty of each board, however, to ascertain the available labor supply for such industries outside the men called for service and to take the result into consideration in determining such things.

"If, in the opinion of the district board," this section of the regulations concludes, "the direct, substantial, material loss to any such industrial or agricultural enterprise outweighs the loss that would result from failure to obtain the military service of any such person, a certificate of discharge may be issued to him. . . ."

Certificates of exemption will not necessarily be permanent. They may be revoked with changing conditions, or may be granted only for prescribed periods.

NOT ENOUGH ROOM AT FT. M'PHERSON

Suitable Ground Now Sought for Drills and Light Maneuvers — Artillery Practice Handicapped.

More room is needed at Fort McPherson for drills and light maneuvers. All available space has been taken up, and yesterday Colonel Noyes, in command of the post, spent the day in looking for suitable ground in the vicinity of the camp. The plan is to obtain the consent of the owners of desirable property to drill the training corps men over their ground, but what land will be desired has not yet been determined upon. It will be as near to the reservation as possible, according to Colonel Noyes.

This additional space is to be used for infantry drill. There is no suitable space near Atlanta for artillery practice, and as soon as the three student batteries training for that branch are ready for actual firing, it will be necessary to establish a range elsewhere. Colonel Noyes said that it was impossible to tell where such a range would be laid out, but that the comparatively sparsely peopled districts of north Georgia might offer suitable ground.

The aviation school at Tech, was unable to open on Monday, as previously announced, because Lieutenant Richards, signal corps, who is to command it, has not yet arrived.

It was announced by the officer in charge of applications for the second training camp that enlisted men of the regular army and the national guard are now eligible for the second camp. The following telegrams have been received from Washington:

"Enlisted men of the national guard are eligible without limit as to number. Their applications will be treated in the same manner as those of civilians.

"Enlisted men of the regular army reserve and the regular army who were not in the service when records for temporary appointments were made in March, 1917, may apply for second camp. Maximum age limit 50 years."

An appeal has come in behalf of the footweary students who watch empty automobiles whirling into Atlanta while they wait for crowded street cars. It is suggested that the drivers take pity on the young officers and give them a lift now and then to town.

GOVERNOR SPENDS DAY MOVING INTO MANSION

Did Not Go to Capitol Monday, But Will Be in Office Today.

Governor Hugh M. Dorsey spent Monday in moving from his private residence on Peachtree road and establishing himself and family at the governor's mansion, and did not go to the office at the capitol. Monday night found affairs fairly well adjusted at the mansion, however, and Governor Dorsey expects to be in his office at the capitol this morning.

Though the governor has not yet announced the appointments of the executive staff of his office, Marshall Nelms, of Atlanta, whom, it is generally believed, the governor will appoint as his private secretary, acted in that capacity in the governor's reception room all day Monday. During the day there were a number of callers, who came in to pay their respects to the new governor.

Claude West, of the executive staff of the two administrations immediately preceding Governor Dorsey, handled the odds and ends left over from Governor Harris' administration and superintended putting things in shipshape for the new administration. Mr. West is a man of long experience in the governor's office, and has handled the transfer of executive affairs for several administrations.

MISS RANKIN CALLS AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Washington, July 2.—Representative Jeanetta Rankin, of Montana, made her first call at the white house today to discuss with President Wilson elimination of overtime work of women employees of the bureau of engraving and printing, and to urge establishment of good moral surroundings for training camps.

HOME GUARD DRILLS IN THE THIRD WARD

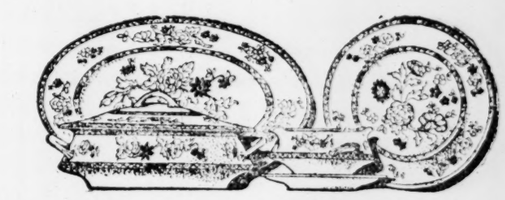

The third ward home guard met last night at the Grant park courthouse, and actual drilling was begun. About 75 members were present. The drilling will be under the supervision of men of military experience, and Monday and Friday nights have been designated as meeting nights.

GRANDMOTHER, THE PIONEER PHYSICIAN

In the good old pioneer days of this country, when drug stores were few, grandmother's root and herb remedies were what were always depended upon to bring relief for family ailments, and some of grandmother's root and herb remedies are now found upon the shelves of the modern drug store, and are among the best and most widely used prepared medicines.

Such is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a botanic remedy, originally prepared by Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., over forty years ago, and which has brought health and happiness to more women in America than any other medicine.—(adv.)

Judge Your Baking Powder By Its Actions and Results—

Don't allow misleading statements or advertisements to influence you.

Calumet Baking Powder is appreciated most by those who know it best.

Before you form an opinion, give Calumet a trial, watching every process of the making and the baking from start to finish.

Calumet will prove that it is pure, wholesome and economical—that light, fluffy biscuits, muffins, doughnuts, cakes, griddle cakes, etc., always result from its use.

That's Why We Say—

Go to your dealer—ask for, buy and try a can of Calumet Baking Powder. If you are not perfectly satisfied after a thorough test, return what's left and get your money back.

HAS A CURE FOR PELLAGRA

Parrie Nicholas, Laurel, Miss., writes: "Seems to me if I had not obtained your remedy when I did I would not have lived much longer. I am glad you discovered this wonderful remedy that will cure Pellagra. When I began taking Baughn's Pellagra Remedy my weight was 60-odd pounds; now it is 90-odd. I would like to have this published and sent to sufferers of Pellagra."

This is published at her request. If you suffer from Pellagra or know of any one who suffers from Pellagra, it is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn, who has fought and conquered the dreaded malady right in the Pellagra Belt of Alabama.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red with much mucus and choking; indigestion and nausea; either diarrhoea or constipation. There is hope. If you have Pellagra you can be cured by Baughn's Pellagra Remedy. Get big free book on Pellagra. Address American Compounding Co., Box 2003, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—(adv.)

Ask Additional Amount.

All workers were urged to again visit each person who had made a substantial contribution and secure an additional amount, urging the doubling of original subscription wherever possible.

Mr. Dobbs also brought out the fact that many Atlantans have received "Red Cross dividends" which have been declared by foreign corporations, and mailed to stockholders with request that they indorse them and return for contribution to the Red Cross. Mr. Dobbs declared that those receiving such checks should see that they are credited to Atlanta.

Woodmen of World Gather in Atlanta In One Week's Time

The executive committee of the Atlanta camps of Woodmen of the World in charge of preparations for the Sovereign Camp convention of the order which meets here on next Tuesday, July 10, are now on their last lap of the program and preparations, and they expect to provide an abundance, both of accommodations and amusements, for the thirty thousand or more visitors and delegates who will come to Atlanta.

It bids fair to be the largest convention in point of numbers ever held in Atlanta except the Imperial Council of the Mystic Shrine which thronged Atlanta streets with some forty thousand merry-makers in the spring of 1914.

In charge of preparations for the Atlanta camps are W. E. Floding, chairman; C. H. Nelson, Newton Phillips, C. B. McGaughey, W. C. Bennett and C. J. Sheehan.

Delegates will be at the Piedmont, which is convention headquarters. The registration booth will be in the dining room of the Aragon hotel at Peachtree and Ellis streets. Sessions of the Sovereign Camp will be held in the Auditorium-Armory. Amusements will be staged at Lakewood and Piedmont parks.

Of these there will be a great number and variety, including aviation flights, mimic air battles, horse racing, competitive drills by the uniform rank of the order, relay races, sack races and other athletic events.

Neighbor Cursed Wilson And Then Came Trouble, Asserts McNabb in Suit

A. W. McNabb and S. J. Greiner, who live next door to one another at 20 and 22 Venable street, have argued war so much that McNabb finally decided the thing to do was to take out a peace warrant against his neighbor. So McNabb swore out the warrant for Greiner in municipal court Monday afternoon.

He stated in asking for the paper that the trouble started some time ago, when Greiner, he says, cursed the United States and President Wilson, and McNabb's wife remonstrated with him and invited him to "go back to Germany," if he did not like America.

McNabb states that since that time there has been more or less discord between Greiner and his own family, and that Greiner has threatened to kill him and his wife.

LAST CALL FOR RED CROSS.

This is the day upon which Atlanta is to close its $250,000 allotment to the national Red Cross fund.

Atlanta enters upon this final day several thousands of dollars below expectations—so far below, in fact, that a generous and a general outpouring of cash is necessary if Atlanta is to come up to the mark set by other cities throughout the nation.

Cities, many of them smaller than Atlanta, and few of them proportionately so rich, north, east and west, have responded with open hearts and open pocketbooks to this call of humanity; and Atlanta cannot afford to let it be said she did less.

So it is a case of "come across" today, or the opportunity will be gone.

There are still many Atlantans, known to be abundantly able to give, who haven't contributed a dollar to the fund, so far as the published lists of contributors show. Still others who have given in amounts entirely incompatible with their means.

It is the duty of such citizens to save the day and Atlanta's good name!

The subscription campaign winds up with a rally in the chamber of commerce building at 12:30 today.

And every Atlantan who has not subscribed is expected to do so, either in person at this rally, or through one of the Red Cross committee solicitors during the morning. Or you may telephone your subscription direct to The Constitution and it will be reported.

Do your bit, you citizens of Atlanta!

If you have not given, and are able to give, do so the first thing this morning. Or, if you have given, but are able to give more, double your original subscription and win the commendation of your own conscience.

A few paltry dollars cut little figure with you here, but they will go a mighty long way in stanching blood and saving life—possibly that of your own son—later on over in France!

Get on the Honor Roll—today!

KEEP ATHLETICS ALIVE.

Major General Leonard Wood, in command of the department of the southeast, has taken occasion frequently during the last few weeks to advise strongly against the discontinuance of athletic sports in schools and colleges on account of the war.

This is directly in line, too, with a recent and very forceful utterance by President Wilson upon the subject of war-time athletics, delivered in response to a request for advice, from the head of a middle western university.

As the administration repeatedly has emphasized, the needs of the country can best be served by the people's going about their accustomed civilian pursuits, and pursuing their habits of life, both as regards business and pleasure, as nearly as possible "as usual." Thus will the republic be enabled to maintain an even keel, and be enabled, furthermore, to more effectively concentrate upon its necessary military enterprises.

Both the president and General Wood are right in advising the continuance of athletic activities during the war. It is the only proper course, from whatever angle it may be viewed.

For one reason athletics in our higher educational institutions does more than any other one thing to build up our young men physically and keep them in trim for any emergency. This is shown with splendid forcefulness in the personnel of the young men who are today in the officers' training camp at Fort McPherson, the great majority of whom are college men who were active in athletics when in school; and, by the way, finer physical specimens, taking the whole camp together, would be hard to find.

Then, sports and athletics keep the people in a healthy and wholesome frame of mind. They are good for us. They are good for the soldiers. Indeed, one of the first acts of our troops after landing in France the other day, was to stage a baseball game!

Let us permit the war to interfere as little as possible with our even tenor. Let us conduct our "business as usual;" let us have "education as usual," and let us also "play as usual" as long as the war lasts—after which, of course, everybody will celebrate and everything will fairly hum!

COTTON'S BROADENING SPHERE

Nathaniel T. McGrane, New York, president of the largest twine distributing firm perhaps in the world, in a communication appearing in another column of this page, calls attention to the effect the war has had in popularizing the use of cotton and forcing it into hitherto unknown purposes to which it has proven eminently adapted.

"For nearly twenty years," he says, "we have fought for cotton to be used as a substitute for linen, flax, hemp or jute in twines and cords," and at last, he declares, "necessity has forced some to try cotton, who never before would dare attempt its use," the result being that cotton has been demonstrated to be even superior in many respects to some of the materials of which these maufactured commodities were formerly made.

Perhaps there is not another raw product, unless it be iron, capable of such diversified uses as cotton; and its limit is yet far from reached.

Up to a few years ago nobody thought of cotton as having any value save in the fibre; whereas now it is known to be one of the richest of food plants, both for man and beast—its seed being superlatively rich in protein, roughage and oil.

And while cotton is selling now at a figure hardly to be expected to maintain in peace times, the broadening of the sphere of the product due to the necessity brought on by war has been such that after the war and for all time cotton bids fair to reign in more regal fashion than ever before.

THE BEAR STRIKES AGAIN.

That the Russian bear, as the news reports show, has so far recovered his old vigor as to be able to fight again; and that he is fighting with power and strength, is occasion for general and genuine thankfulness among the anti-Teutonic allies.

"Russia's new offensive is now fully under way," says the day's Associated Press report, "and in twenty-four hours' fighting 8,564 prisoners have been taken."

That bit of news is of vastly more significance than a similar account of a day's fighting on the western front.

First, it shows that the Russian fighting spirit is returning; that the Russian sentiment and the Russian attitude toward the war are rounding back splendidly in opposition to a separate peace. And it also is highly significant in that it means that in order to combat an offensive movement on the eastern front Germany will be compelled to return to the Russian frontier a strong armed force now engaged against the French and British on the western fighting line.

Ever since the overthrow of the Russian czar the country has been in such a state of unrest, and its military so disorganized, that things on the eastern front have been so quiescent as to permit Germany to withdraw a large portion of its eastern forces with which to strengthen its opposition to the aggressive British and French armies on the west.

But with Russia again fighting, and so furiously as the reports indicate, Germany's eastern front becomes again so alarmingly jeopardized that again its forces will have to be divided between the two battle lines, east and west.

The fact that even in the face of Germany's reinforced opposition in the west the allies have been able to push on and on—slowly but surely, and suffering no serious setback—only indicates what sort of news we may reasonably expect from both fronts, now that the opposition forces must be divided.

It certainly looks as though the weight that the United States soon will be able to throw into the balance ought to be sufficient to turn Hindenburg's slow retirement into a rout. At any rate, the end of the war will come much more speedily now than it could have come with Russia in the role of a non-combatant.

A New York woman, asked by the state military census taker if she owned any mules, replied: "Yes, one—my husband."

The Springfield Republican says that Germany's secret service need not overstrain itself in getting word to Berlin that the Liberty Loan has been oversubscribed. All the censors in the world could not keep that news from the kaiser and his minister of finance.

Stand by the Red Cross. It wears the badge of courage and of help.

There will be little need of fireworks, for this time, more than ever, the glorious Fourth will speak for itself.

The Melon in the Well.

I.

There's lots o' music in 'em—
The homey songs that tell
Of the coolin' of the melon—
The melon in the well;
The melon ripe an' red
That you slice beneath the shed
When the hot sun's a-shinin' on the cornfields.

II.

That's the sort o' music
Whose chorus you can swell,—
The music of the melon—
The melon in the well!
A noontime friend to you;
The one sweetheart that's true
When the hot sun's a-shinin' on the cornfields.

Sphere of Cotton's Uses Greatly Broadened by War

Editor Constitution: Cotton today is in use serving well for purposes where formerly flax and linen were only thought of as practical.

For nearly twenty years we have fought for cotton to be used as a substitute for linen, flax, hemp or jute in twines and cords.

Necessity has forced some to try cotton who never before would dare attempt its use. We have many large users who formerly were wedded to flax who now testify that cotton fits their work better than flax.

Our road to progressing cotton to uses is often reflected on by the cotton manufacturer who, in his ignorance of proper foundation to build on, attempts to market goods made from low grade cotton or waste cotton, and, with that false or faulty construction, only produced to sell at a low price per pound. Such "black eyes" have to be cured and the trade taught that cotton of good staple and educated up to date manufacture is dependable and winning favor.

Today's high price is no drawback to sale of twines and cords of character made from cotton.

The hardest converts to the use of twine and cords made from cotton are the people of the south.

Look them over and you will find 90 per cent of them using common jute or hemp, figuring that because they buy at a low price per pound they save money. The facts are that if they were to figure length for a penny of requisite strength they spend more money than if cotton was applied to their work.

Cotton will develop to more uses as people study what cotton is capable of.

HEALTH TALKS
By William Brady, M.D.

THE HABIT OF TAKING SALTS.

Firmly but gently let us insist that the good old fashioned home remedies still hold their place in our practice against all modern inventions, and salts is one of the old reliables. Yet reluctantly but frankly we must confess that this same old reliable is capable of doing a powerful amount of harm when abused. And it is abuse to take salts when you merely require a laxative.

Under certain circumstances nothing can be substituted for salts when definite results are to be obtained. By salts we mean Epsom, Rochelle, Glauber's, Carlsbad, phosphate of soda, citrate of soda, in fact any saline cathartic, natural or artificial, plain, effervescent or disguised. But each and every kind of salts will do much harm if habitually or frequently taken merely to move the bowel.

The action of salts, no matter which kind, is very simple to explain. The saline has an affinity for water and draws water from the lining of the bowel. This, of course, causes irritation, to which the bowel responds by increased activity. Imagine the effect of daily irritation of this kind over a period of many months or years!

Some of the salts, no matter which kind, will be absorbed into the blood and eliminated through the kidneys. In the process of elimination the kidney is irritated, and if the dose is a daily habit the kidney will in time suffer. The abuse of salts is one of the many causes of kidney disease in later life.

It is not abuse to resort to a dose of salts upon rare occasions, or several doses if necessary. It is not abuse to employ salts when your physician prescribes such medication for some particular purpose other than moving the bowels. It is abuse to take salts when a milder laxative will suffice, and it is abuse to use salts merely for the purpose of producing an evacuation.

One of the least unpalatable saline laxatives and most effective when properly prepared and taken is the official solution of magnesium citrate of the Pharmacopoeia. This pleasant solution must be freshly prepared by the pharmacist on call, and the whole bottle (twelve ounces) should be taken by an adult, in divided doses every half hour or so.

So far as effect is concerned, Epsom or Rochelle salts is quite as good as any other. Also quite as bad when abused. Many people take salts or other cathartics to accomplish that which an intelligent regulation of the diet would accomplish nicely.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Immunity to Poison Ivy.

My work necessarily exposes me to poison ivy, and I have suffered numerous attacks in the past few years; in fact, I am no sooner over one attack than I suffer the next. There is no doubt of the nature of the trouble, for I have consulted two good skin specialists. I read something in one of your articles that suggested the possibility of being immunized against it. Can you inform me whether that is possible? (A. M. C.)

ANSWER—You might try taking internally a drop or two of the tincture of rhus toxicodendron (poison ivy) made in the strength of one per cent, after each meal, and double your dose every week for eight weeks. This has proved effective in several cases.

Hollow Back and Flat Feet in Children.

Our boy, aged ten, seems delicate, yet the doctors find no particular cause. He grinds his teeth in sleep, has headaches often, eats poorly, is rather thin, and doesn't do very well in school. Please do not consider us foolish, but we wonder if it can be worms. His grandmother declares he has worms, though the doctors say not. When he is stripped his back seems very hollow. (A. W. D.)

ANSWER—Well, the doctors ought to know. If grandma will prove her charge by finding eggs of the worms under the microscope, we'll report her victory in detail here. Hollow back, and perhaps all the other symptoms you mention, may be caused by flat or pronated feet. It is difficult to believe that such a cause would be overlooked by doctors, but a great many important causes of ill health are overlooked when the doctor fails to have his patient strip for examination.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. The names of writers are never printed. Commenting on Our Senators

"Our Senators' Mistakes."
(From The Athens Banner.)

It is, indeed, unfortunate for this state, especially so at a time when the nation is unsettled and conditions demoralized, for our senators to occupy a position of opposition and antagonism to the president and his policies. Not since the entrance to office by President Wilson have our senators supported him in his constructive legislation, but they have been seen proper to oppose his measures, and they have gone so far at times as to almost leave the party principles in order to defeat his legislation which was builded for the best interest of this country.

It is true that President Wilson has refused to appoint a number of applicants for various positions indorsed by the senators from Georgia, but in every instance, it was shown not to be political reasons on the part of the president, but his actions were prompted by pure motives and for what he believed to be for the best interest of the service as well as for the best interest of the country.

Political appointments and greed for political power should not enter into the deliberations of the senate body whereby a senator opposes a measure for the reason of disappointment over some political appointment. Such acts on the part of a senator cannot be excused, neither can the friends, no matter how loyal they may be, defend such action and support such men for office.

President Wilson has proved himself to be the greatest American since the days of Washington and Jefferson. He has proven to the world his ability to direct and execute the affairs of the nation with diplomacy, fairness and firmness. He has not been found wanting in a single instance, and when this great world-wide war is over, the pages of history, in centuries to come, will mark him as the greatest American the nation has ever known.

It is to be hoped that our senators will realize their mistakes and during this great crisis they will rally to the support of the president and give to him the help needed which means so much at this time when the whole nation is stirred over the greatest war the world has ever experienced.

"Our Senatorial Ishmaelite."
(From The Macon Telegraph.)

Senator Hardwick reminds us a good deal of the kaiser. He got off on a wrong tack about the same time His Royal Madness did and both are either too buttheaded or too naturally cross-grained to pull back. Discretion thrown to the winds, both are riding, red-eyed and stormy-brained, to their certain doom, the one dynastical, the other political.

Of all the political mania that has come to our attention in some time that exhibited by the junior senator the last year or two carries off all trophies. A little tact, a little of the spirit of compromise might have carried him through the judgeship tangle with credit to himself and satisfaction to the district; instead, he has thwacked everything and everybody representing any solution but his own particular choice, and the situation has now developed to where he stands in the eyes of his constituents as nothing but a thoroughly bad-tempered, obstinate little man with a grouch and a grudge on all creation except his personal friends, and they are beginning to wonder about him.

His opposition to United States Marshal Davis, a thoroughly good democrat, now holding the office, a Wilson appointee, popular and efficient, is based solely on his, Senator Hardwick's, certain knowledge that Mr. Davis is satisfactory to the president and the balance of the administration. Ergo, Davis must be an appointee for Hardwick to fight. So he comes forward with a candidate of his own and the net result is about certain to be that Marshal Davis will fail of confirmation but will enjoy an indefinite recess appointment, Senator Hardwick's man will never even get as far as the president's desk to be passed on, and the junior senator will have gained a further legion of angry and implacable enemies in Georgia.

The junior senator has been a fine political fighter, but evidently somebody has told him of it too impressively, and he has taken as his sole instrument of effect a battle ax. Left alone with it, he has hacked away without a let-up and battered his own political playhouse far more evilly than he has the persons of his adversaries.

Commends Congressman William Schley Howard

Editor Constitution: The eyes of the loyal democrats of Georgia are fixed, with the highest approval, on Hon. William Schley Howard, congressman from the fifth district.

Many of them here would be delighted to vote for him next year for the United States senate.

Cannot he be persuaded to run?

J. D. COLLEY.

Washington, Ga., July 2, 1917.

LITTLE LOCALS ABOUT THINGS OF CITY INTEREST

Consent judgment for $1,000 was taken Monday in Judge Bell's division of superior court in the case of W. D. Thrailkill against the Georgia Railway and Power company. Thrailkill was injured at Walker and Peters streets. He was represented by Attorney Reuben R. Arnold.

Representative George B. Davis, who has in the past been opposed to compulsory cattle-dipping for tick eradication, on Monday introduced in the house a bill which would provide for the state-wide dipping of cattle. The bill does not compel a man to dip his cattle, but makes trading in or shipping cattle contingent upon their having been dipped.

Secretary of State Phil Cook has granted a charter to the Mercantile Bank and Trust company, of Savannah, the institution to have a capital stock of $100,000, with A. J. Cohen, M. Wilensky, J. Lichtenstein, W. G. Sutlive, Herman Shuptrine and others as incorporators.

Frederick Moyan, allias Fred Costello, 32 years old, a Spaniard, of Laredo, Texas, who escaped from Atlanta several weeks ago, when it is alleged that he obtained $2,500 from Edward E. Hokes, of 56 Garnett street, on a spurious land deal, has been arrested in Detroit, Mich., by Sergeant George Bullard, of the Atlanta police department, after an exciting chase over the country. Sergeant Bullard and his prisoner returned to Atlanta Saturday night. Costello is being held at police headquarters to be transferred to the Fulton county tower.

Reuben Bloomberg, Ben Cline and Dave Shuman, three Atlanta merchants, who were injured when the car in which they were riding ran into a bank on the Jonesboro road below Forest Park Sunday afternoon, are now very much better. They were brought to Atlanta by another auto which was passing, and taken to Grady hospital. Bloomberg and Shuman were able to return to their homes Sunday afternoon and Cline was able to leave the hospital Monday.

Anderson Fielder, the youngest of the well-known Fielder brothers, four negro men, who, it is alleged, have been arrested and connected on various occasions for divers violations of the prohibition law, was convicted Monday of having in his possession a goodly quantity of the prohibited liquor, and sentenced to 60 days, or a fine of $25. Judge Calhoun first made the fine $50, but upon Fielder's plea that he was the "baby" of the family, and his proof that it was his first offense, the fine was reduced to $25.

History of Fortified City Of Kronstadt, Where Rebel Russians Were Strongest

In a war geography bulletin the National Geographic society gives the following information about the fortified city of Kronstadt, where rebel Russians attempted to set up a separate government:

"The Malta of the Baltic" is the name given to Kronstadt and the small island of Kotlin which it occupies, but a more appropriate name would be "the Gibraltar of Petrograd," for the supposedly impregnable fortress commands the sea avenue to the great Russian capital.

"The island of Kotlin, which is a little more than seven miles long and a mile and a quarter wide, lies at the western extremity of the Bay of Neva, in the fresh water discharged by the River Neva. To the west is the Gulf of Finland.

"Kotlin was first fortified in 1703 by Peter the Great, when it was wrested from the Swedes, but it was not until seven years later that the great monarch laid out the town of Kronstadt and began the systematic erection of its defenses. Three hundred thousand men are said to have been employed on this work, but it was not completed until the reign of Peter's daughter, Elizabeth.

"The town, which had a population of 65,000 at the beginning of the world war, is intersected by two waterways—the Canal of Peter the Great, begun in 1721, but not completed until 31 years later, and the Catherine canal, constructed in 1782. Between these two canals stands the Italian palace of Prince Menschikoff, one of the most picturesque figures in all Russian history. Born of the most humble parents, Menschikoff at the age of 20 was selling meat pies in the streets of Moscow when he attracted the attention of Lefort, Peter the Great's favorite. On the death of the latter Menschikoff succeeded to the place of honor with his sovereign and served him energetically. It is said of Menschikoff that he could 'drill a regiment, build a frigate, administer a province and decapitate a rebel with equal facility.' Upon the death of Peter he became the virtual ruler of Russia during the brief reign of Peter's widow, Catherine I. A turn of the wheel of fortune finally cast him from his high estate: his great wealth, largely acquired through corruption, was confiscated, and he and his family were exiled to Siberia, where he died in 1729.

"The modern fortifications of Kronstadt were designed in large measure by General Todleben, the famous engineer whose system of earthworks enabled Sebastopol to resist the siege of the French and English allies for 349 days during the Crimean war. Todleben devoted 15 years to Kronstadt's defenses, profiting by his wide experience at Sebastopol. The fortifications are in the main low, thickly-armored earthworks with large caliber Krupp guns. There are three well-equipped harbors—the naval, middle and commercial.

"Guarding the approach to Petrograd, which is 19 miles to the east, Kronstadt is also the chief station of Russia's Baltic fleet. While the city has some trade in iron, hemp, flax, tar and oil, it is handicapped to some extent commercially by the fact that the harbors are icebound from December to April. During these winter months the place is decidedly dreary in appearance.

"Peterhof, a town of 16,000 inhabitants, founded by Peter the Great in 1711, and famous for its imperial palace, built in imitation of Versailles, lies to the southeast of Kronstadt a distance of ten miles. During the summer season in peace times passenger steamers ply between Kronstadt and Petrograd with ferry-boat frequency, the trip requiring an hour and a half."

Telegraph Warmly Commends Governor Dorsey's Inaugural

(From The Macon Telegraph.)

He would be, indeed, a captious critic who could find aught but commendation of the address of Governor Dorsey upon his inauguration before the general assembly in joint session Saturday. On the other hand, as an agency that has waited with the keenest interest and with a mind that had to be "shown" by actual performance that it was good, for this very utterance, The Telegraph, with no brief to make for the new governor, has no hesitancy in characterizing it as one of the most forward-looking and constructive state papers written in Georgia in a generation.

It is shorn of rhetoric, of hyperbole, of that indulgence in word painting and phrasemaking which is almost a distinguishing characteristic of the majority of even our ablest men. With little preamble the new governor takes up some of the state's most pressing problems, and while his stand on each of those discussed is identical with the ideas made plain by some of us who have been preaching these reforms since long before he ever gave any notable thought to state questions, he adds to bare etchment of problems and recommendation for remedial action tentative plans of action by which he thinks the remedies may be brought about. It is this latter feature that makes his administration loom up all of a sudden with a good deal of promise.

We have had plenty of public men in the past, from governor on down, to tell us we needed "law enforcement," "better schools," "election reforms," "good roads," "tax reform" and so forth, but we have been mighty short on men in public office who had in mind definite methods whereby remedies might be arrived and who came out boldly to espouse their beliefs and work for them. Governor Dorsey takes one or two problems by the horns and handles them without gloves, although to do so means he will surely encounter pressure from high and hitherto neutral sources.

DIXIE BAKERS DECIDE TO PREVENT WASTAGE

Retail Merchants Will Not Be Allowed to Return Unsold Bread in Future.

No more unsold bread, returned by the retail merchants at the end of the day, will be accepted by southern bakers, in accordance with the request of the Council of National Defense. At a meeting of the Southeastern Association of Baking Industries yesterday at the Piedmont hotel it was voted to comply with the government request. This will eliminate the custom, heretofore common, of bakers sending out large quantities of bread in the morning and then taking back the unsold loaves.

The Council of National Defense has called meetings all over the country to put a stop to this practice, as a war-time economy. The bakers and merchants will probably respond to the request as the southern association has done.

George S. Ward, of New York, owner of the Ward Baking company; General Boyle, of Missouri; Sam McDonald and J. Burns, respectively, president and ex-president of the National Association of Baking Industries, were the speakers at the meeting.

Love for This Pistol Gets Youth in Trouble, According to Police

Patrick O'Donnell, 18, of 94 Formwalt street, who, it is alleged, is afflicted with a mysterious attraction for a certain pistol possessed by J. M. Nowell, 51 McDaniel street, and who is being held on suspicion for the burglary of the King Hardware company, 252 Peters street, in which a small number of knives and razors were stolen, is believed by the police to be the person responsible for the many robberies which have occurred in Atlanta during the past few months.

The police say that O'Donnell stole a pistol belonging to Nowell last January. It was recovered and returned to its owner, and, it is alleged, that O'Donnell stole it again several weeks ago, when it was again recovered. Several days ago the pistol was missing for the third time, and when O'Donnell was arrested Sunday morning the weapon was in his possession, it is said.

PLUMBING THIEVES BUSY.

Real Estate Dealers Are Making Vigorous Complaint.

Complaints from real estate men all over the city have been pouring into police headquarters regarding thefts of plumbing, gas and electric fixtures from vacant houses, and it is claimed that the total value of the purloined articles during the past month alone will amount to more than $1,000.

As soon as a house becomes vacant, the reports say, burglars who make this a specialty, enter in spite of the fact that the police make their regular rounds, and remove the fixtures.

Vacant houses belonging to J. W. Goldsmith, R. L. Avery and Mrs. J. M. Murphy were stripped of their fixtures. Some drastic move for relief is expected from real estate and property men of the city.

WILL OF JAMES R. GRAY FILED WITH ORDINARY

The will of the late James R. Gray, president and editor of The Atlanta Journal, was filed with the ordinary Monday morning. Mr. Gray's estate consisted in the main of stock in The Atlanta Journal and life insurance.

In his will he directed that his wife and children should share alike. The beneficiaries are Mrs. James R. Gray, Mrs. Earle D'Arcy Pearce, Mrs. Thomas M. Brumby, Jr., Inman Gray, Mrs. James Gallogly and James Richard Gray, Jr.

Inman Gray and James R. Gray, Jr., sons of Mr. Gray, were named as executors and have qualified as such. The will relieves them from giving bond, making returns and filing an inventory and appraisement.

The will was filed by Charles T. & Linton C. Hopkins.

FEW WOMEN SWIMMERS.

"Too Cold for Them Yet," Asserts Gillespie.

According to statistics compiled at the various city swimming pools, men led women in the swimming field. The figures for June show that there were 571 more men to go in swimming than women.

Manager Gillespie attributed the scarcity of mermaids at the various pools to the cold weather. "When hot weather comes," he said, "you will see lots more women out bathing each day than men."

Comparisons for this June with last June were announced as follows:

Pools.	Men.	Women.
Piedmont park	19,835	7,762
Oakland City (not open in June last year.)
Moseley park	2,767	2,363
Maddox park	4,518	1,167

Totals: Men, 27,120; women, 11,292; both sexes, 38,412.

Now Is a Good Time to Buy Diamonds

Diamonds are going to be materially higher in price—even the smallest sizes have advanced considerably during the past twelve months.

The demand in this country and in Europe is far greater than the supply.

Insurance, shipping and taxation has already caused the cutters to raise prices. It is only a question of a short time before the retailers will be compelled to follow these advances.

SUNDAY WILL PROVE GREAT MORAL FORCE, SAY U. S. WORKERS

Billy Sunday will be one of the greatest assets in the morality campaign to be waged here in behalf of the thousands of soldiers to be encamped in the Atlanta cantonment when the draft army is organized, according to government officials.

Eastern representatives of the training camp activities commission, which operates under the approval of the war department, appeared before the regular weekly meeting of the Evangelical Ministers' association Monday morning and told them that the moral sentiment created by the spectacular revivalist would have a deterring effect on social evils.

The Evangelical Ministers will co-operate in many branches of the campaign for a cleaner city, and for recreation for the soldiers tented in Atlanta. Representatives of the Young Women's Christian association also appeared before the ministers, assuring them of the Y. W. C. A.'s support in the training camp activities.

AGED GAINESVILLE MAN FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

Gainesville, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—C. S. Merck, prominent bicycle dealer, is believed to have shot and killed himself about 11:30 o'clock last night. The body was was not discovered until 1 o'clock today.

Neighbors say that a pistol shot was heard in the direction of Merck's residence last night, but nothing was thought until he failed to open his place of business this morning, and about 1 o'clock neighbors went to the residence and found his body lying in the hall with a pistol shot through his forehead.

Merck and his wife had been separated for about six weeks, owing, it is said, to Merck's mind becoming deranged at times, and his wife thinking that he might commit an injury to her some time, not knowing what he was doing.

Mrs. Merck was staying at her mother's home when the tragedy occurred, and the children all being away from home, nothing was thought of not seeing Merck around until he failed to show up at his place of business today.

In addition to his wife the deceased is survived by the following children: Mrs. Rawson Dent, Newnan, Ga.; Mrs. Will Wing, Appalachicola, Fla.; Mrs. Harry Fannin, Macon, Ga.; Dr. Fred S. Merck, Marianna, Ark.; C. S. Merck, Jr., Waycross, Ga.; Ralph Merck, with the United States aviation corps, Fort Houston, Texas.

Merck was 61 years old.

BIBB FARMER HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Macon, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—Amos Reed, a farmer of the Warrior district, was ordered by the coroner's jury here today to be held on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death last night of E. W. Hyatt, also a farmer of the Warrior district, and a neighbor of Reed, who was so badly injured in a fight with Reed Sunday afternoon that his death occurred several hours later at the Macon hospital.

Mrs. Hyatt had asked Reed's daughter not to lead their cow through her yard. The Reed girl reported the matter to her father, and shortly afterward Reed and Hyatt engaged in a quarrel. Finally they agreed to meet at a corn crib half-way btween the two houses. According to the children of the dead man, Reed struck their father over the head with a plank in which were several nails. They also claim that Mrs. Reed struck him in the back with a heavy piece of iron that looked like a wrench.

Mrs. Hyatt finally succeeded in separating the men and got her husband into the house, where he became unconscious. He was taken to the hospital, where it was found that his skull was fractured.

In telling of the trouble at the inquest this morning, Mrs. Hyatt said that her husband was unarmed. Reed, she said, picked up a board and struck her husband twice. Then, according to Mrs. Hyatt, she ran and separated the two men. Her two children, Hadie and Albert corroborated her story.

Reed refused to discuss his case today further than to say that had he not felt that he was justified in doing what he did he would not voluntarily have given himself up to the sheriff.

Reed surrendered as soon as he learned that Hyatt had died.

POLICE AUTHORITY FOR HOME GUARD

wagon will begin operating on Wednesday, and that dog license tags are on sale at his office.

A hot fight was precipitated in council when the charter revision committee introduced a proposed charter amendment whereby the pension system in the fire department will be greatly extended, if the proposed amendment gets the sanction of the Georgia legislature.

The measure proposed to amend the pension system, as applied to the fire department, so that firemen hurt on duty shall receive adequate compensation. If permanently injured they are to receive full pay, and if killed their families are to receive one-half of their salary in monthly payments.

The payments are to cease proportionately as each child becomes sixteen years of age. For instance, if there are two children when the oldest child becomes sixteen, if the widow is still alive, one-third of the pension is to stop being paid, and so on.

If hurt, or otherwise ill, after 20 years of continued service, or 25 years of aggregate service, the fireman is to receive his salary, as a pension, and if he can continue in the service actively he is to receive $3 a month extra.

Councilman Nutting, who led the fight against adoption of this measure, stated that if this amendment was obtained at the legislature, and later extended to the police department, that it would in time bankrupt the city of Atlanta.

Fight on Pension Changes.

A motion to table was lost. A motion by Councilman Nutting to amend the measure as introduced by the charter revision committee by adding that it be submitted to the people at the polls for ratification was lost. A motion by Councilman Johnson to have the pension benefits extended to the police department was also lost. Another amendment, to have the employees at the city pumping stations included, also was lost.

In requesting authority for the police board to swear the members of the home guard organizations in as policemen Mayor Candler told council that the city would need the extra police protection to guard its waterworks, as the government Monday withdrew its national guards, and there were no policemen to spare for this work. Mayor Candler also pointed out that extra police protection would be needed by conditions that would soon surround Atlanta. He stated that no pay was asked by the home guard members, that their service was purely patriotic.

Councilman Johnson led a fight against the swearing in of the members as policemen, claiming that he did not want them to be used against labor in case of riots.

Home Guard Ordinance.

Mayor Candler's appeal, which was introduced in the form of an ordinance by Alderman Barnes, was as follows:

Whereas, The present conditions surrounding the city of Atlanta and its public utilities call for additional police service outside of that furnished by the regular policemen and detectives in the department of police, and many of the citizens constituting themselves as a "home guard," the powers of policemen might well be committed to this guard under proper supervision and regulations, and the city receive the benefit of this organization, same being voluntary and patriotic without further expense.

Therefore, Be it ordained by the mayor and general council as follows:

1. That the board of police commissioners be, and the same are, hereby authorized to swear in and direct for special officers such members that are known as the "home guard" or similar organizations, as in the opinion and discretion of said board are qualified and competent to preserve peace and order in the city and in such limits as the city has within its police jurisdiction. No limit is placed upon the number to be selected under the direction of said board, but before committing to them the police power of the city they be passed upon either by the board or several of the police officers, under their direction, as to their physical ability to maintain order and as to their moral qualities by the board itself.

2. That all members of the "home guard" or similar organizations thus sworn in as special officers of the city shall have all the powers of a police officer and shall be qualified to make arrests just as members of the regular force and shall have all the other powers of the police in preserving order and protecting public property of the city and perform such other duties as may be committed to them by the board of police commissioners and such other duty within the city as the city has police power over, provided they shall serve without compensation.

3. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance be, and the same are hereby repealed.

"Dimmer" Amendment.

An ordinance to amend the city dimmer ordinance was introduced by Alderman Dunlap, and was referred to the ordinance committee. Alderman Dunlap stated that the present dimmer ordinance of the city was in conflict with the state dimmer law, and that he didn't see why the city should not pass a dimmer ordinance that would permit the use of bright lights on the streets because of poor lighting facilities on the streets.

An ordinance by Alderman Ewing to require all junk dealers to list with the chief of detectives all plumbing they buy was referred to the ordinance committee at the request of the chairman of this committee, who stated that drastic regulations of the junk dealers is being drawn up by this committee.

BIG MEETING THURSDAY TO PAVE WAY FOR 'BILLY'

To Put Machinery of Christian Atlanta in Motion for Sunday Revival.

The largest audience that ever gathered in Atlanta to prepare for a religious revival is expected to pack the Wesley Memorial church next Thursday night at 8 o'clock, when a giant mass meeting will be held to take the first steps in paving the way for Billy Sunday's coming November 1.

The Atlanta committee in charge of the Sunday revival has sent out invitations the city over, urging all Christian folk to attend the meeting, which is, they say, the most important of any gathering in the entire preparatory campaign.

This meeting will put into motion all the machinery of Christian Atlanta; it will decide the building of the great Sunday tabernacle on the circus grounds; it will be a proof of the interest and enthusiasm with which Atlanta looks forward to Sunday's appearance.

The meeting is, of course, interdenominational. All creeds and all classes are expected to attend. Every pastor in the city will be present, together with the officers and leading members of each church. A number of churches have signified their intention of marching their congregations to Wesley Memorial church in a body. Announcements of the meeting were made in all pulpits Sunday.

James M. Speers, a leading New York merchant, and Arthur M. Harris, of Harris & Forbes, bankers, will be the speakers at Wesley Memorial Thursday night.

STUDENT OFFICERS TO LEARN COOKING AT JUNIOR LEAGUE

A number of the student officers of the Fort McPherson Training Camp will take a course of cooking lessons at the Junior League Domestic Science school, so announced Miss Isoline Campbell, president of the Junior league, yesterday. Many of the student officers have realized that the matter of their living welfare will be dependent more and more on their own efficiency in this direction and they are going to join with the young women students of the art of domestic science at the Junior League school.

The classes will be inaugurated for the student officers this week, and will be directed by the domestic science expert in charge of the school. The class in canteen work will also be inaugurated this week, this work under the auspices of the Atlanta branch of the National League for Woman's Service.

MORAL CLEAN-UP URGED.

Enforce Prohibition Law, Orders Judge Ben Hill.

There is no welcome sign on Atlanta's door-mat for pistol toters, disorderly women, gamblers and "blind tigers."

Judge Ben H. Hill, in charging the Fulton grand jury Monday morning, urged a general clean-up of the city preparatory to the establishment of the army cantonment here.

Every citizen should take particular pains to see that the prohibition laws are enforced in this international crisis," declared Judge Hill.

Judge Hill stated that a committee of ladies from Rome, Ga., had called upon him asking him to call attention to the law against selling cigarettes to minors. Judge Hill stated that he was in full sympathy with this law and that it ought to be rigidly enforced.

In view of the fact that many men called upon to serve upon grand juries claim exemption on account of age, Judge Hill stated that he intends to ask jury commissioners to revise the lists, so that younger men may be chosen.

CARRIERS' REQUEST POSTPONES HEARING ON RATE PETITION

At the request of the carriers themselves, the hearing upon their petition for a 15 per cent horizontal increase in Georgia intrastate freight rates as a war emergency measure has been postponed indefinitely. The hearing upon this petition was set for July 17 before the state railroad commission. Chairman C. M. Candler announced yesterday the indefinite postponement of the hearing upon receipt of a letter from E. T. Lamb, vice chairman of the carriers' committee which presented the petition, who asked the postponement on account of the recent action of the interstate commerce commission in declining the 15 per cent increase which the carriers had asked on interstate freight traffic. The letter, however, states that at a later date the carriers may ask that a later date be fixed.

Mr. Lamb's letter is as follows:

"Hon. C. Murphey Candler, Chairman Railroad Commission of Georgia, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear sir: In view of the conclusion of the interstate commerce commission on behalf of the Georgia carriers, I am writing to ask that the hearing of the petition now before you, asking for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates as an emergency be postponed. We may ask your honorable commission later to fix another rate.

"Very truly yours,

(Signed) "E. T. LAMB,
"Vice Chairman.

MUNICIPAL SUFFRAGE FOR WOMEN FAVORED

Local Leaders in Cause Highly Gratified at Council's Action Monday.

Atlanta suffrage leaders are rejoicing over the action of general council Monday afternoon in passing favorably upon the municipal suffrage charter amendment proposed by the charter revision committee. The resolution was introduced by Alderman Kelley.

The necessary bill will be introduced in the house by Dr. John C. White, one of Fulton county's representatives, and will be supported there by John Y. Smith, another Fulton representative. In the senate, Senator Elders will stand sponsor for the measure. If the bill passes it will go to the people of Georgia for ratification.

"Women suffer and serve in times of war, and it was a patriotic act of the city fathers to recommend without dissenting voice our enfranchisement on the eve of Independence Day," said Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, president of the Georgia Woman Suffrage association.

"The encouragement which this action gives to the good women of Atlanta in a time when we are all called upon to do 'our bit' means a renewed consecration by Atlanta's womanhood to the cause of our country, which is always first with us," said Mrs. Amelia R. Woodall, president of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association.

"The favorable action of council Monday is significant and reflects an enlightened public sentiment. It indicates the people have been thinking and reasoning fairly. The war has disproved the statement that men alone fight wars. British leaders have been won over despite their previous opposition and are now a unit for woman suffrage as a recognition of the devoted work of women in camp and field and home and shop," said Leonard J. Grossman, attorney for the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, who was present in council when the resolution was passed.

Y. M. C. A. Building At Engineers' Camp Opens Monday Night

The Y. M. C. A. building which has been recently equipped at the Seventh engineers' camp at Woodward yard was formally dedicated last night when Dr. W. W. Alexander made the dedicatory address.

This is the third Y. M. C. A. building that has been equipped in Atlanta for the soldiers and officers. It is similar to the two at Fort McPherson and will furnish the men clean, wholesome amusements during their recreation hours. Games of all kinds have been placed at the soldiers' disposal, and reading matter of the most uplifting kind will be kept in the reading room of the building. Writing tables have been arranged around the sides of the main room, upon which the boys may write to mother or the girl back home.

George Winship, Jr., chairman of the dedication committee, presided at the meeting last night. Rev. Wallace Rogers spoke in behalf of the Atlanta churches, and commended very highly the work of the Y. M. C. A. in Atlanta among the soldiers. Chaplain Roop, of the Seventh engineers, spoke briefly and thanked the Y. M. C. A. committee for the splendid work in their behalf. Mr. Martin, of South Carolina, also spoke. After the addresses motion pictures were shown, which were enjoyed very much by the audience.

The Y. M. C. A. building at the Seventh engineers' camp will be in charge of W. L. O'Flaherty, of Richmond, Va. Milton Scott, of Decatur, will direct the religious work of the organization.

RED CROSS CHAPTER ORGANIZED IN TAYLOR

Reynolds, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—The Taylor county Red Cross chapter has organized at Reynolds with about 200 members. Hon. Jule Felton, of Montezuma, and Judge R. L. Greer, of Oglethorpe, assisted the local committee in organizing. The officers elected are R. A. Hinton, chairman; Miss Pink Montfort, vice chairman; Mrs. W. E. Marshall, secretary, and H. K. Sealy, treasurer.

Nearly $1,500 has been subscribed, with three-fourths of the county yet to be canvassed.

Flour Mill for Dublin.

Dublin, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—A new flour mill has been definitely decided upon for Dublin. Z. Whitehurst has already purchased machinery for a large mill and is now busy getting details arranged, and securing location here for his plant.

CARPENTER APPOINTED SUCCESSOR TO HENLEY

Has Just Been Commissioned Assistant District Attorney.

W. Paul Carpenter, who was formerly special assistant district attorney, under United States District Attorney Hooper Alexander, has been commissioned assistant district attorney, to succeed J. W. Henley, who recently resigned as assistant.

Mr. Henley, in turn, has been commissioned by Attorney General Gregory as special assistant district attorney, to succeed Mr. Carpenter, who has been promoted to Mr. Henley's former position.

Elliot Cheatham, Atlanta attorney, who has for some time been an assistant in the office of the attorney general, at Washington, has also been named assistant district attorney, to fill the vacancy recently brought about by the resignation of J. A. Drake, who tendered his resignation shortly before Mr. Henley handed in his, and who is now engaged in the practice of law in Atlanta.

MAKES HOME IN MACON.

Mrs. Mattie Adams Agrees to Leave Atlanta.

Mrs. Mattie Adams, the woman who shot and killed Captain Edgar J. Spratling, and who had figured in a number of court proceedings since her acquittal of the murder, signed an agreement before Judge Luther Z. Rosser Monday in which she promised to leave Atlanta for good. Mrs. Adams had been placed under a peace bond by her husband, H. C. Adams, and subsequently was turned over to the county probation officer, who was working on her case in conjunction with the Associated Charities.

Judge Rosser received a letter from the probation officer Monday stating that Mrs. Adams would not "obey instructions," and that she would not work and did not seem to want to be tion officer be relieved of any responsibility in the matter.

Judge Rosser then sent for Mrs. Adams and had her rearrested upon the peace warrant. Upon her agreement to leave the city, the peace warrant proceeding was dismissed. Mrs. Adams stated that she would leave Atlanta for Macon Monday afternoon.

BLAZE ON CURRIER ST.

Prompt Work by Firemen Prevents Heavy Damage.

A fire broke out yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock in the residence of Mrs. F. S. Rogers, 15 Currier street, and but for the prompt arrival and the efficient work of the firemen it would probably have spread all over the section.

The blaze had gained good headway before the wagons arrived. The houses on either side suffered slight damage and Mrs. Rogers' home was badly damaged, the entire top being burned.

SEN. HARDWICK SPEAKS AT COLUMBUS JULY 4

Columbus, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—Foremost among the events on the program for the general observance of the Fourth of July in Columbus will be the address of Senator Thomas Hardwick, in superior court room at the county courthouse at 3 o'clock in the afternoon on "Our Country." The day will be further marked by the closing of the banks and postoffice and the shutting down of the large cotton mills of the city, and the granting of half holidays to the employees of many of the smaller concerns of the city.

Two Privates Held On Robbery Charges Preferred by Negro

Privates George A. Gill and Ralph P. Hoyt, of the Seventeenth regiment, were arrested Monday and charged with the hold-up and robbery of a negro man in an alley near Lee street, West End, on Sunday night.

County Policeman W. A. Riley arrested the men on a Fort McPherson street car after they had been identified by the negro.

A watch which is said to have been stolen from the negro, and an army pistol were found on the men. Both denied knowledge of the robbery.

Bill, That Was False Economy!

You never appreciate just how much it sometimes costs to save a few dollars on a building job 'till you are face to face with the tremendous and expensive work of repairing the flimsy constructions that didn't last.

Patching a hole in a ceiling or wall means scaffolds, a mess, a big labor bill and uncertainty as to the permanence of the repairs. Why experiment? Why not insist that the plaster in your property be laid on a base of —the permanent and modern material for the six room bungalow or the six hundred room hotel? Plaster falls when the base back of it lets go. "Kno-Burn" is made with a mesh that completely imbeds itself in the plaster. It is a metal lath so it can never rot out. Walls laid on "Kno-Burn" stay just as smooth for years as they were the day your house was finished.

Kno-Burn
TRADE MARK
Expanded Metal Lath

Cracks like these spoil the appearance of well decorated walls and are expensive to fix.

Be sure that you investigate this great metal lath BEFORE YOU BUILD ANYTHING. Come into my place of business TODAY. Let me tell you just why metal lath is the ECONOMICAL, the EFFICIENT, the all 'round best buy for you.

CRACKERS LEAD THE LEAGUE AGAIN

Pelicans Fight Until Last, But Crackers Win Opener

Fill Bases in Ninth With One Out—Fullenweider Relieved Sheehan and Bluhm Ended Game, Hitting Into Double Play—Score 6 to 4—Munch and Perkins Hit Well. Five Double Plays Feature.

By Dick Jemison.

Fighting desperately until the last man was out in the ninth inning, the Pelicans lost the first of a five-game series yesterday afternoon to the Crackers by the close score of 6 to 4. Even the closeness of the score does not properly indicate the fierceness of the battling.

The Crackers entered the ninth inning with a two-run lead, but the Pelicans managed to fill the bases with one out. At this juncture Sheehan was yanked and Fullenweider was sent to the slab.

Red Bluhm, a dangerous batsman, was at the platter. Phifer hooked a couple across on him, one of which he fouled. The third pitch was a ball. Bluhm slammed the next one down the third base line. Al Bridwell made a nice pick-up and tossed to McDonald for a force-out and Tex heaved to first for what Umpire Kerin called a double play, though it looked like Bluhm had the throw tied.

Morgan Fines Sheehan.

Sheehan got into trouble in this inning through Umpire Morgan's inability to see a curve that slipped across the outside corner of the plate. There was one out at the time, with a Pelican on first. The ball that Cy missed was the third strike on Jack Stansbury. On the next ball pitched, he singled to center. Then Sheehan walked Knaupp, filling the bases.

Sheehan crabbed at Morgan on the way to the bench and his umpirical nibs proceeded to assess a $10 fine. Fine business. He ought to have fined himself, instead Sheehan is made the goat of his mistake when he registers a just complaint.

Big Tom was rocking along in fine shape until the last three innings, when the Pelicans, battling for their very life, tallied three times and came mighty near tallying in the final session as related above. The old luck evens up as was evidenced in this game. Some of the Pels' best smashes sailed right at some one early in the game, while an easy one that took a bad hop over Reilly's glove put them back in the ball game in the eighth inning.

Little Dick Robertson tried his spitter out on the Crackers to start the game for the Crackers. It worked fairly well for an inning and two-thirds. With two outs in the second inning the fun began, and when the smoke had cleared the Crackers had four runs across the platter and on the way towards a ball game.

Tom Reilly got back into the game at short, and although not himself entirely, he kept the gang on their toes most of the afternoon, and they heaved the ball around between batsmen, keeping the old pep alive most of the way.

Robertson was succeeded by Herb Kelly, a former Cracker, in the fourth inning, and Herb held the Crackers pretty well in check the rest of the way.

Jake's Hundredth Hit.

Jake Munch and Cy Perkins led the Cracker attack with three bingles apiece in four times to the plate. Cy cantered across the platter with three of the Crackers' six tallies.

The third hit that Jake corralled was his one hundredth of the season, the first Cracker player to reach one hundred hits during the campaign.

Sammy Mayer did not get but one base hit during the afternoon, but it was of the timeliest variety, coming with the bases clogged in the second stanza and unloading them, a two-base wallop to left.

Roy Moran contributed some splendid running catches in left field, and hit the ball hard, but unfortunately right at some one. Bridwell and McDonald handled their positions in approved style, having some extra hard chances.

Barbare and Baker did the best hitting from a Pelican standpoint, while the way this fellow Baker played that third cushion was a caution. He kept the Crackers in check when they were about to break loose afresh. Two of his best plays was in the second inning, when he flagged Bridwell's tap and converted it into a double play and a moment later failed to throw Sheehan's slow roller which filled the bases. Had he heaved it, he probably would have hurled it wide. His smart play, however, availed his side nothing, as Sammy came through.

Five double plays, three by the Pelicans and two by the Crackers, kept down the score.

How They Scored.

The Pelicans got off to a one-run lead in the opener. With one gone, Barbare smashed one through Bridwell for a bingle. Baker singled to center. Walter steamed for third and kept all the way home when Mayer heaved to the bench, over Bridwell's head.

Baker went to third on the wild chuck, but Sheehan tightened and got Edmondson and Stansbury, Moran making a nice catch on the latter.

Then came the Crackers' big second. Thrasher opened it with a single. Bridwell hit sharply down the third base line, Baker converting an ordinary safe hit into a double play. Tom Reilly drew a hand when he came to the plate and walked. Jake Munch dropped a Texas leaguer safely in left, and Cy Perkins shot a single to center, sending Reilly home with the tying run. Sheehan then beat out a hit down the third base line, filling the bases.

Sammy Mayer picked out one to his liking and hammered it down the third base line for a double, clearing the sacks ahead of him. McDonald and Moran walked, but Thrasher grounded out when Bluhm made a nice play of his bounder and tossed to Robertson.

In the fourth Perkins led off with a single. Sheehan bunted and both hands were safe when Robertson's throw to second was wild. Mayer grounded out, both base runners advancing a bag, and Robertson was yanked. Kelly was sent to the hill and McDonald hit the first ball he pitched for a single.

Eddie Loses Ball.

In the Pels' seventh Edmondson got hold of one of Sheehan's shoots and hammered it to the scoreboard. Mayer and Thrasher went after the ball, but were unable to find it. It got lost.

In the eighth, with one gone, Higgins walked. Kelly beat out a hit to first on a mighty close play. Gilbert grounded out, but Barbare slammed a hot one to short that took a bad hop over Reilly's glove for a base hit, Higgins and Kelly counting.

In their half, with two gone, Perkins got his third hit. Sheehan walked. Mayer grounded to Barbare, who booted. Perkins rounded third and Barbare threw there, throwing wild and Cy keeping on for the platter.

The Pels threatened in the ninth, when Baker singled. Stansbury singled after being struck out and Knaupp walked, filling the bases. Bluhm then hit to Bridwell and a double play resulted.

Otto Hess will probably face his old mates this afternoon in the second game of the series, while Dixie Walker will probably be shot at the Crackers by Johnny Dobbs. Another hot fought game should be the result.

Birmingham, Ala., July 2.—Bennett was effective in the pinches today and Mobile won from Birmingham, 5 to 1. Perryman was hit hard in the early innings and was relieved by Black, who pitched good ball in the fourth. Birmingham had ten men left on bases. The defeat cost the Barons the lead of the Southern league, as Atlanta won from New Orleans.

Nashville, Tenn., July 2.—O'Brien's double in the third inning, scoring two runs, decided the first of a five-game series with Chattanooga in favor of Nashville today, the locals winning, 6 to 4. Ellis was driven from the box in the third, when Chattanooga overcame a three-run lead secured in the first inning while Merritt was knocked out in the first half of that inning. Cavet relieved Ellis and Kroh replaced Merritt. T. Sheehan's fielding again featured the game.

CRACKERS AGAIN IN FIRST PLACE

Resume Rightful Position by Beating Pelicans While Barons Are Losing to the Lowly Gulls.

The Crackers went into first place again in the Southern league standing after the returns of Monday's games were in. The Crackers defeated the Pelicans, while the lowly Mobile Gulls were giving the Birmingham Barons a trimming in Birmingham.

This is the second time the Crackers have occupied the topmost rung, supplanting the Pelicans for a period of twenty-one days when the Pelicans were on their last road trip. This time it is the Barons that the Crackers supplant.

The standing of the three leading teams through Monday's games is:

	Games.	Won.	Pct.
Atlanta	49	32	.605
Birmingham	47	32	.595
New Orleans	47	33	.588

With the race standing this close, there is likely to be a change in the standing most every day during the present week. The Crackers, though, have up their old fighting spirit and they say that they are going to hold to the lead, now that they have it again.

Charleston Loses Two.

Charleston, S. C., July 2.—Pitcher Meador has been sold by the Charleston club of the South Atlantic league to the Nashville club of the Southern association and Pitcher Cox to the Richmond club of the International league.

WHIFFS

Looking 'Em Over.

IRA THOMAS, formerly star catcher for the Philadelphia Athletics, is a visitor to Atlanta. Ira is doing scout duty for the Athletics and is in Atlanta to give the embryo Athletics now on the Cracker payroll the once over.

A Big Feature.

THE CONSTITUTION takes pleasure in announcing that it has secured for its golfing fans a series of twelve articles, the first of which will appear next Sunday, written by Harry Vardon, the master golfer. These articles should be of a most instructing nature to the newer golfer and very interesting to many of the more experienced.

A Big Day.

THE ANNUAL water sports day of the Atlanta Athletic club will be held at East Lake tomorrow, and all the leading swimmers of the club of both sexes will compete for the trophies that are to be offered. It is believed that some of the club records will totter.

At Lakewood.

TROTTING, pacing and motorcycle races with some of the classiest horses and riders in the south contesting will be part of the big Fourth of July celebration at Lakewood, held under the auspices of the Southeastern fair. There will also be music, dancing and fireworks at night.

Will Watch Them.

ATLANTA golfers will watch with interest the showing that Little Bob Jones and Perry Adair will make in the western golf tournament which will start in Chicago next week. Both of these youngsters are already on the ground practicing for the tournament.

Playing Well.

THAT THE TWO youngsters are playing fine golf is evidenced from the report that comes from East Lake regarding a recent match in which Little Bob and Perry gave Georges Adair and Stewart Maiden a golfing lesson. According to the report reaching us, the youngsters did not permit their older opponents to win a single hole, though they did manage to halve a few.

For Will Fly.

FORT OGLETHORPE will be the scene of one of the hottest baseball games on record tomorrow, when the student officers from Fort McPherson go up there with their nine to do battle with the embryo officers of Chattanooga's training camp. Many ex-college stars will appear in the line-up of the two nines.

A Real Find.

CONNIE MACK has gathered into his fold a youngster whom every one predicts will make good as a professional. He is Captain Murphy, of the Dartmouth college nine. Murphy is a catcher by trade. They say at Dartmouth that there never has been a better catcher in the school. He can throw like a wizard, sway like a whale and uses his head as well as his hands and feet.

Times Have Changed.

THE ATHLETICS when they were winning pennant after pennant were reputed to be the most mild-mannered bunch of ball players individually and collectively that was ever gotten together, and Jack Barry was among the mildest. But since Jack has become a manager things have changed. Jack is said to have his say regularly now.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

White Sox 4, Indians 3.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 2.—Chicago took the last game of the series from Cleveland, 4 to 3. Lack of control by Lambeth, following Boehling's ineffectiveness in the second inning, gave Chicago its four runs. Poor base running prevented Cleveland from tieing the score in the sixth. The game was called in the seventh to let Cleveland catch a train.

GREEK WARSHIP IS SUNK; 29 MEN LOSE THEIR LIVES

Paris, July 2.—The Greek destroyer Doxa, manned by French officers and crew, has been blown up in the Mediterranean. Twenty-nine men, including all the officers, were lost.

The official announcement on the Doxa says that the destroyer sunk as a result of a double explosion on June 28. The Doxa was then within 100 yards of a merchant vessel, which she was convoying.

MAY CURTAIL SEASON OF THE DIXIE LEAGUE

By D. L. Gibson.

Bainbridge, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—The second week of the second half in the Dixie league saw Eufaula wrest the leadership from Bainbridge and close the week with a lead of one and a half games over the Flint river boys.

President Moore, of the Eufaula club has started a movement to have the league close its season July 15, instead of August 11, and thereby be sure of finishing the season, and thus enable teams to reserve their players for next year. The matter will be decided during the week.

The following shows the number of games played, won and lost; runs, hits and errors made and runs allowed opponents by each club:

Eufaula	6	5	1	26	47	7	12
Bainbridge	6*	3	2	33	52	14	26

All Choked Up With Catarrh? Why Continue Makeshift Treatment?

Sprays and douches will never cure you.

Catarrh is annoying enough when it chokes up your nostrils and air passages, causing painful and difficult breathing and other discomforts. But the real danger comes when it reaches down into your lungs.

This is why you should at once realize the importance of the proper treatment, and lose no time experimenting with worthless remedies which touch only the surface. To be rid of Catarrh, you must drive the disease germs out of your blood.

Splendid results have been reported from the use of S. S. S., which completely routs from your blood the Catarrh germs, for which it is a perfect antidote.

S. S. S. is sold by all druggists. If you wish medical advice as to the treatment of your own individual case, write to-day to Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. L-39, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

Georgia condition, 69.

Washington, July 2.—A cotton crop of 11,633,000 equivalent 500-pound bales this year was forecast today by the department of agriculture. In estimating that production the bureau of crop estimates based its calculations on the condition of the growing crop on June 25 and the preliminary estimate of this year's acreage which was announced today for the first time. Last year's crop was 11,449,930 bales, in 1915 it was 11,191,820, in 1914 the crop amounted to 16,134,930 bales—was the largest ever grown—and in 1913 it was 14,15[illegible],486 bales.

In its preliminary estimate of the area of cotton in cultivation on June 25, this year, the bureau places the figure at 34,600,000 acres. That compares with 36,05[illegible],000 acres, the revised estimate of acres in cultivation a year ago, and with 3[illegible],412,000 acres harvested in 1915, 36,832,0[illegible] acres in 1914—the year of record production—and 37,089,000 acres in 1913, the year of record acreage.

The Condition 70.3.

The condition of the growing crop on June 25 was 70.3 per cent of a normal, compared with 69.5 on May 25 this year, 81.1 on June 25 last year, and 80.0, the average condition for the last ten years on June 25.

Since the May 25 report of the department of agriculture, placing the condition of the crop at 69.5 per cent of a normal was made, conditions have not been generally favorable. Toward the time of making the June 25 canvass cool weather was retarding growth in most central and eastern sections of the cotton belt, and the crop was further unfavorably affected by drought in central and western Oklahoma, and in Louisiana, except in the southeastern portion. In Texas drought also prevailed to some extent, but the crop was standing that condition well and was making some growth. The drought in Louisiana was reported as serious. The crop was in good shape in Tennessee and fairly good progress was being made in North Carolina, where warmer weather was needed. In Georgia and Mississippi the crop was reported as small and in fair condition only in Alabama and southwestern Arkansas. Florida's crop is mostly promising. Some sections reported boll weevil, although in Texas there has been but little insect damage this season.

In calculating its forecast of total production the bureau of crop estimates based the yield on the condition of the crop on June 25 and the preliminary estimate of acreage, allowing for abandonment of one per cent from the planted area. The final production, however, probably will be larger or smaller than estimated according as conditions from now until time of picking are better or worse than average conditions.

DEFICIT OF LABOR HELD ACREAGE DOWN

Washington, July 2.—A statement on cotton condition issued at the agricultural department today said:

"It was the desire and intention of the farmers of the south outside the newly infested weevil areas to plant this year the largest cotton crop on record, but their plans could not be carried out. A number of influences have held the acreage down and in some places forced a reduction where heavy increases were contemplated. An important influence has been the labor problem.

"In all of the states east of the Mississippi river, where the negro is the chief labor on the cotton plantations, there has been a heavy exodus of these workers. Several hundred thousands of negroes have deserted the farms to go to the industrial centers in the northern and eastern states where they could get higher wages than they had been receiving. In addition many thousands of young men left the farm to enter the military or naval service.

A Deficit of Labor.

"Heretofore there was usually a small surplus of farm and industrial labor in the south, while now there is a deficit with no chance of an adequate supply soon. As a result much land ordinarily planted to cotton is this year planted to other crops requiring less cultivation and hand labor.

"The high prices prevailing for food, feed and fertilizer has been a factor. The slogan, 'The South Must Feed Itself,' has had its effect and many farmers are now practicing diversification. In many sections it is as profitable to grow high-priced corn, wheat or other food crops as it is to produce cotton. These crops, requiring less cultivation than cotton, seem to some farmers to solve the labor problem and they have planted these at the expense of some of their cotton acreage. Unfavorable weather caused much loss of early planted cotton, and some of this was replaced by corn and other crops.

Mostly Late.

"In some sections the crop has recovered some of its lateness, but over most of the belt it still averages two to three weeks late. The weather was too cold the first half of June and over the southern half of the belt dry weather, while in portions of Texas assumed crop-killing proportions, prevailed the greater part of the month. In Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia the drought has been serious, but cotton has not suffered as severely as other crops. In the states on the northern line of the cotton belt too much rain has fallen in many places. The latter part of the month was more favorable for cotton, the temperatures being generally high and the crop, while small, seems to be fruiting well. There is complaint of weevils in every infested state, but the ravages to date seem not so severe as in former years. The lateness of the crop is probably responsible to some extent for this, but the dry weather prevailing in the worst infested sections has held the weevil in check. The crop is generally well cultivated."

GOVERNMENT MAY TAKE ALL SHIPPING TONNAGE

Washington, July 2.—Secretary Redfield is preparing to warn business that the government may find it necessary to requisition shipping tonnage within a short time. Industries will be told they should adjust their affairs accordingly.

President Wilson was authorized in the shipping amendment to the war budget bill to take over private shipping for government uses and to appoint any agency of the government to administer the act. So far he has not delegated this power, but is expected to give it to the shipping board in a few days.

Closed irregular.

New York, July 2.—Heavy realizing followed the publication of the government's crop report in the cotton market here today, with sentiment being very nervous and unsettled later on reports that the senate had voted to include cotton and cotton products in the proposed food control bill. From the early high level, October contracts broke to 25.53, or 153 points, and closed at 25.40. The general list closed barely steady at a net decline of 94 to 99 points.

Houses with Liverpool and Japanese connections were among the early buyers and there was scattered covering before the government report, which was evidently stimulated by continued dry weather in the southwest.

The market opened at an advance of [illegible]2 points, and the active months sold [illegible]8 to 66 points above Saturday's close after the call, with May making a new high record for the movement. July sold at 27.20, and December 27.08, but the advance was checked by realizing at this level, and there was a quick break of 60 to 70 points on the publication of the government report. The official condition of [illegible] was higher than indicated by the private reports, and was doubtless a disappointment to recent buyers. A partial rally followed the first break, with buyers emphasizing the decrease of 4 per cent in acreage and the low crop indication, while they also pointed out that the condition actually reported was the lowest on record. The bulge met increased offerings on reports of showers in the southwest, and the selling later became active and excited on the news from Washington. July broke to 25.80 and December 25.51, making declines of $7 to [illegible] per bale from the early high [illegible].

Closes were steadied by covering, [illegible] within a point or two of the [illegible].

Spot [illegible] middling 26.40.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, July 2.—Cotton developed marked weakness on this market today, partly because the government put the condition of the crop at a higher percentage than expected and partly because of the action of the senate in adding cotton to the food control bill. From the highest to the lowest levels there was a drop of 139 to 167 points in the active months. Last prices were [illegible] 105 points under the final figures of Saturday.

Around the opening the market stood 45 to 48 points up in expectations of a bullish bureau report from the government, but at 11 o'clock, when the figures were received, prices were only 10 points up. There was an immediate drop of 75 points on the most active months following the reading of statistics, but around the middle of the day the market made a recovery back to slightly above the level of Saturday's closing, only to meet a fresh selling wave on the Washington reports.

While the acreage figures, showing a decrease of 4 per cent compared to last year, about met the speculative bullish opinion, the condition, nearly a point higher than last month's condition was a surprise, a trade generally expected a falling off of at least a point or two.

Cotton Seed.

New York, July 2.—After advancing 11 to 15 points on short covering induced by the big upturn in lard, cotton seed oil broke severely on reports that the senate passed an amendment to the food bill to include cotton and cotton products. Many stop orders were caught on the decline. Final net losses were 13 to 29 points. September sold from 15.81 to 15.91 and off to 15.61, closing 15.63. Sales, 36,600 barrels. Dry Goods.

New York, July 2.—Cotton goods and yarns were quiet and firm today. Some uneasiness was caused by reports of government control of raw material and textile products. Raw silk was higher. Dress goods and knit goods are being made ready for the spring season and new prices are being higher than a year ago.

Railroad Earnings.

Gross earnings of United States railroads making weekly statements to Dun's Review continue at the highest level ever recorded for this period, the total of all roads that have so far reported for three weeks in June amounting to $24,639,928, an increase of 15.9 per cent as compared with the corresponding week a year ago.

No Vacation for Wilson.

Washington, July 2.—Announcement was made at the white house today that President Wilson does not expect to take a vacation this summer, but plans to remain in Washington whether congress adjourns or not. The president may take short trips down the Potomac river week-ends on the Mayflower.

PLAN FOR PREVENTING COTTON FLUCTUATIONS

Washington, July 2.—A plan for preventing wild speculation in cotton futures on British and American exchanges was presented to Secretary Redfield today by Lord Northcliffe, head of the British mission in the United States. Lord Northcliffe later took the plan to the department of agriculture.

The British government is seeking an arrangement for co-ordinating dealings to check wild price movements similar to the recent flurry which forced the Liverpool exchange to close down for several days.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, July 2.—(Special.)—Foreign interests bought a large quantity of contracts at the opening and immediately thereafter. While the government figures on condition were somewhat better than expected, the market ruled firm until late in the afternoon, when a dispatch from Washington stating that cotton and its products are to be included in the food bill brought heavy liquidation and the market declined approximately 150 points from the highest of the day.

More optimistic advices are being received from practically all states with the exception of Texas and Oklahoma, which continue dry.

There were no exports reported today. Fluctuations are rapid in both directions.

J. W. JAY & CO.

New York, July 2.—(Special.)—On outside realization the market declined when the bureau report of condition 70.3 was published these offerings were absorbed by the local traders, who felt that until rains fell in Texas the improvement in the crop now in process in the section east of the Mississippi was offset by the absence of rains in the southwest. We believe the course of prices depends almost entirely on the question of rainfall in the southwest.

That the government should have found an improvement in the crop during June was rather a surprise to outside holders, who have read so many private accounts of a decrease during this period.

Early in the afternoon word was received from Washington that cotton and cotton products had been put upon the food control bill by a vote of 43 to 23. Whether this refers to cotton goods or not, we do not know, but the effect upon the market was to bring in further liquidation, which carried the market down a cent a pound from the opening prices.

CORN CONTINUES TO SOAR SKYWARD

Chicago, July 2.—For the second time in two days the corn market has soared above all previous high price records. Number two grains reached $1.78½ a bushel today as against a new top level of $1.76 on Saturday.

Last chance activity of distillers was one of the numerous bullish factors, but the main impetus seemed to come from the scarcity of supplies for immediate delivery on contracts.

Options closed nervous, 1½c to 2⅞c net higher, with July at $1.59⅜ to $1.59⅝ and September at $1.50 to $1.50¼.

Wheat had an unsettled finish, 1c off to 2⅜c up at $2.01 July and $1.84⅜ September.

Oats gained ¼c to 1@1⅛c and provisions approached to within less than 5 cents of the maximum prices established for future delivery transactions formed one of the leading achievements of today's corn market.

Near the Highest.

The highest quotation possible for a future option under existing board of trade war emergency rules is $1.65 and the July price reached at 1 today $1.60⅛. Eagerness of distillers as buyers was explained as due to their belief that the near at hand final enactment of the food control bill at Washington would shut off until at least the end of hostilities all further opportunity for manufacture of whisky.

In addition to this aspect of war conditions, seaboard advices were unanimous that export call was strongly in evidence.

Total absence of any deliveries of corn here today on July contracts tended greatly to increase anxiety on the part of shorts who must settle in the present month, as the stock of corn in Chicago has dwindled to 248,000 bushels. Other shorts whose obligations are to furnish supplies for new crop deliveries were worried in particular by a comprehensive report from a high authority indicating that the condition of the 1917 growth was below normal in some of the most important producing states.

Welcome rains in Oklahoma and Kansas seemed to have but slight effect in checking the advance of the market.

Wheat Trading Zero.

Wheat and oats reflected the strength of corn. Trading in wheat, however, was not much above zero in volume, the general assumption being that complete control of the market would soon be taken over by the federal government.

On the other hand, business in oats was large and the value of the grain was lifted especially by a good export demand. Strong hands took control of all the provisions delivered on July contracts. The amount was heavy, contrasting notably with the scarceness of grain, but new sellers were not to be found and the market made an even steeper advance than corn.

Sugar.

New York, July 2.—There was no change in raw sugar prices today, and while trading was again quite active, the demand seemed to be for next month shipment, refiners apparently having supplied their immediate requirements. The sales were placed at about 75,000 bags of Cubas for August shipment at 5½c, cost and freight, equal to 6.52 for centrifugal, and there were about 35,000 bags of Porto Ricos sold for July shipment, equal to 6.27 for centrifugal. Cubas were offered at 5½, cost and freight, for July shipment without being taken. The market closed about steady at 5½c for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 5.52 for centrifugal and 5.64 for molasses.

In refined sugar prices remained un unchanged at 7.50 to 8c for fine granulated with a pretty fair business reported. Some of the refiners were out of the market, while at the lower level orders were being restricted.

Trading in futurs was quite heavy and the undertone was unsettled with the prices were a few points above the close of range of prices very irregular. At the start prices were a few points above the close of last week on covering, but the more liberal offerings in the post market led to increased pressure and prices eased off until at one time they showed net losses of 3 to 7 points for the active positions. Toward the close there was a little buying from commission houses and prices rallied, closing 3 points net lower to 2 points higher. Sales, 26,050 tons. July sold from $.37 to 5.35, closing [illegible]35; September, 5.55 to 5.46, closing 5.50; December, 5.40 to 5.34, closing 5.37; March, [illegible]0, closing 4.90.

BEARISH SENTIMENT ON STOCK MARKET

Recent Freight Rate Decision Held Chiefly Accountable—Rails Further Depreciated—Call and Time Loans Easier.

New York, July 2.—Trading in today's desultory market was governed almost entirely by the caprices of professional operators.

Sentiment was overwhelmingly bearish, for which the recent freight rate decision was held chiefly accountable.

Rails experienced additional price depreciation, standard shares losing 1 to 3 points, while St. Paul recovered an extreme decline of 5⅝ points to 67⅝, its minimum quotation for about twenty years.

Elsewhere the list displayed highly erratic tendencies, a few leading industrials rising briskly when others of equal prominence were irregular or weak. This was especially true of equipments and recognized war shares.

Baldwin and American Locomotives, Pressed Steel Car, Steel Foundries and Republic Iron scored gain of 1 to 3 points, while United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Colorado Fuel and a few associated issues reacted 1 to 2 points.

Shippings, oils, American Sugar and minor specialties were intermittently active at 1 to 2 points advances, but these movements were overshadowed by the heaviness of automobiles and accessories, Ohio Gas and Industrial Alcohol, the latter making a gross decline of 7 points. Metals were unusually quiet, dealings in that group being restricted by labor troubles.

With scarcely an exception lowest prices were made on the broader selling of the last hour, rails at that period lacking support, even at concessions. Few gains remained, the market closing with a heavy tone. Sales amounted to 635,000 shares.

Call and time loans were increasingly easy, sixty-day accommodations shading ½ per cent. Commercial paper also evinced a lower trend. Foreign exchange held around last week's rates, except rubles, which fell to the new low record of 21.70.

Another small import of British gold was offset by moderate export to Japan and South America. Bonds were irregular and nominal as to dealings. Liberty 3½s held firm at par to 100 1-50. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,980,000.

United States coupon and registered 2s gained ½ per cent on call.

Coffee.

New York, July 2.—The first trading day of the new steason was a comparatively quiet one in the market for coffee futures, but prices were steady on covering.

Local brokers said it looked as though the July liquidation of last week had left the market in a steadier technical position and attributed some scattered buying to a more optimistic view of peace prospects as a result of the Russian news and reiterated reports that vessels would be diverted to the trans-Atlantic trade. The market opened at an advance of 1 to 7 points.

September sold up to 7.83 and March 8.09 during the day, or about 12 to 14 points net higher, and the close showed a net gain of 9 to 12 points. Sales, 22,500. July, 7.60; August, 7.70; September, 7.79; October, 7.83; November, 7.87; December, 7.91; January, 7.96; February, 8.01; March, 8.06; April, 8.11; May, 8.16.

Spot coffee dull; Rio 7's, 8⅝; Santos 4's, 10. It was reported in the cost and freight market that Rio 7's had sold at 8 and were offered at 8.05, American credits. Offers of Santos 4's were said to range from about 9.40 to 9.75, London credits, according to description.

The official cables reported an advance of 75 reis in the Rio market. Santos spots were unchanged and futures 50 to 75 reis higher. Brazilian port receipts, 38,000, against 44,000 last year; Jundiahy receipts 15,000 against 31,000 last year. Rio reported a clearance of 9,000 bags for New York.

EVERYTHING IS READY FOR FOURTH OF JULY

Race Track in Fine Condition, and Good Motorcycle Contests Are Expected.

Everything is ready for the great Fourth of July celebration at Lakewood park. Beaumont Davison, the chairman of the committee, after seeing the huge crowds which visited the resort Sunday, announced that he expected the attendance on Wednesday to be the largest that Lakewood has ever seen.

The race track is in fine condition for some of the best southern horses to try for the mile record, and the fastest motorcycle drivers of the south are ready to show their speed. The other attractions will be in full swing all day. One of the finest features will be the $1,000 display of fireworks in the evening. These will be sent up on the lake and along the shore. Two Chicago experts have the fireworks in charge, and have been working on the set pieces all week.

Mrs. Alfred Wilson, as the chairman of motion pictures, has the direction of the following pictures: "Sunshine and Gold," "The Nation's Peril" and "Our Fighting Forces." They will be shown free in the evening.

A most convenient car schedule will bring the crowds without discomfort. Entrance to the grounds on the Fourth will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. Altogether the officials of the Southeastern Fair association expect a record day, one that will long be remembered by those who spend the Fourth at Lakewood.

WORLD'S GREATEST MOTOR TOUR ALONG THE FAMOUS CODY ROAD

"The world's most wonderful 90 miles"—is how tourists describe that great Cody Road, the new motor highway through the gigantic Canyon of the Shoshone River and over beautiful Sylvan Pass in Yellowstone National Park.

You who have not toured the new Cody Road, cannot appreciate Yellowstone. Make the Cody Road tour the feature of your vacation this year. Enter the Park at the Cody Gateway. Then tour Yellowstone. See the wonderful Canyons, the Hot Springs, the Geysers—leaving at the Gardiner Entrance.

The Burlington—the National Park Line—offers a 3-in-1 National Park tour taking in Yellowstone National Park (Cody Road), Glacier National Park, Rocky Mountain National-Estes Park and other points in Colorado, all on one ticket. This is the biggest vacation bargain on the map today. Long return limits—liberal stop-overs—diverse routes.

Say when you expect to start, how many in your party and let me point out the delights the Burlington 3-in-1 National Park Tour offers. I have free descriptive literature and can give you all the information.

THRIFT MEANS FAILURE

UNLESS YOU USE INTELLIGENCE. It's one thing to EARN money, it's another to SAVE IT, and it's ENTIRELY another to INVEST it. How many men do you know—women, too—who are thrifty, work like slaves for years, but don't GET ANYWHERE; and it's all because they are afraid to back their judgment. Mr. Renter, if you ever get anywhere, you'll have to take a chance—here's YOUR chance—and you can't LOSE if you use INTELLIGENCE. It's a brand-new 5-room bungalow at Lakewood Heights, 1 block of car, 1 block of school; fronts two paved streets, in the very best residence section; city water, bath, sink in kitchen, no sewer—outside city, no city tax to pay. Sold one next to it last week—before it was finished—for spot cash, too. Lot 52x220 feet. $17.50 month gets it. This means that, interest and all, your payments will not average over $22 to $25 per month. In ten years it will have cost you nothing. Here's your chance. Have you the INTELLIGENCE? P. B. Everyday Opportunities

There's not a day passes but that somewhere in the advertising in The Constitution there's found a real opportunity to save some money—not only one opportunity, but maybe a dozen or more opportunities to save money. Probably one opportunity will save you a dime—another may save you a dollar—the aggregate may mean the saving of several dollars. Of course, you've got to spend some money in order to save it, which sounds all very paradoxical—but the merchants who are making these money-saving opportunities in their advertising in The Constitution are offering to save you money on the needs that must be bought—and bought the oftenest.

You won't know of these opportunities, however, unless you read the advertising in The Constitution regularly, because these opportunities "bob up serenely" without previous announcement, and you must be a constant ad reader to keep in touch with these opportunities. Turn to the merchants' advertising right now and see what opportunities await you there.

Tobacco Habit Easily Overcome

A New Yorker, of wide experience, has written a book telling how the tobacco or snuff habit may be easily and quickly banished with delightful benefit. The author, Edward J. Woods, 155-R, Station E, New York City, will mail his book free on request.

The health improves wonderfully after tobacco craving is conquered. Calmness, tranquil sleep, clear eyes, normal appetite, good digestion, manly vigor, strong memory and a general gain in efficiency are among the many benefits reported. Get rid of that nervous, irritable feeling; no more need of pipe, cigar, cigarette, snuff or chewing tobacco to pacify morbid desire.

BIDS WANTED

Contracts for furnishing this institution with its winter's supply of Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes, Notions, etc., will be awarded on Wednesday, July 18. Printed lists of supplies wanted, may be had upon application to the undersigned.

FIFTH WILL LEAVE FOR MACON TODAY

Regiment Will Go by Train While Machine Gun Corps Will Make Cross-Country Run in Motor Trucks.

The Fifth Georgia, "Atlanta's Own," leaves for Macon this morning at 7 o'clock over the Central of Georgia railroad. The regiment will require four sections to accommodate the 1,400 men who will go with it to Macon. The machine gun company, Captain Morrison, will go down cross-country in the new motor trucks with which it has been outfitted. Colonel O. H. Hall will accompany the machine gunners and a good run is expected.

At Macon the Fifth will be instructed in the elements of trench digging, barbed wire entanglement construction and throwing hand grenade. For the latter purpose Major Leahy has been detailed for some time to the officers' school at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where he has been receiving a course in bomb throwing with officers of the regular army. He will give instruction to the Fifth. The site will be on the Bellevue car line about two miles to the west of the city.

700 Men Needed.

There are still about 700 men lacking, in spite of the enthusiastic response to the appeal sent out Monday. A special detail under Captain Wright, L company, of 48 men, will be left at the Auditorium-Armory to assist the regular recruiting party. A final drive, beginning on the Fourth and lasting seven days, will be carried out by these men with the aid of the Women Sponsors' association, and a hearty response is expected.

William H. Parker, Sandersville, formerly a sergeant in E company, has been promoted to the grade of second lieutenant. He makes the eighth man to rise from the ranks since the regiment was called into federal service a year ago.

The army recruiting office in the federal building reports a fine day. Captain C. V. Heidt declares that men will be accepted for the regulars up to the time the draft is actually made, and calls attention to the opportunity before Georgians to go in as voluntary recruits. He commends the state on the response to the recruiting week appeal made by the president. In his statement, he says:

Heidt's Statement.

"Recruiting week is over. Georgia produces 252 men during that week. In the United States a total of about 8,000 men were obtained. If all states had done as well as Georgia, over 10,000 men would have been secured. Good for Georgia! She is patriotic; she has shown it by the response of her sons to the president's call.

"Since April 1 131,000 men have been enlisted throughout the United States for the regular army. Of this number 3,300 came from Georgia. Georgia held her own nicely; her population being one-fortieth that of the United States.

"The Georgians are waking up fast to the advantages of joining the regular army—the branch that has been running long enough to get the kinks out of it; the branch commanded by officers who have made a life study of military art. Come on and join the regulars, Georgians! You are lucky if you get into this branch.

"All regular army recruiting sergeants in Georgia have instructions to accept men for regular army until the actual draft is made. You have only a few more days. Act quickly, get in now. Only about 2,000 vacancies left in the regular army to bring Georgia up to full quota. Be wise, be one of that 2,000."

Enlistments Monday:

Fifth Infantry—Henry T. Jackson, Atlanta; Julian M. Phillips, Atlanta; Jesse W. Waller, East Point; Robert Eidson, Tallapoosa; Robert T. Smith, Atlanta; James Hester, Cleveland; Dolphus Purvis, Towns; Mack D. Teague, Adairsville; Oscar C. Cassidy, Marietta; George H. Burnett, Atlanta; Carl J. COTTON CONTROL BY GOVERNMENT

Wednesday—Independence Day—but it now is believed a quorum could not be held and a recess for the one day is in prospect.

The cloture motion, if presented tomorrow, will, under the rules, lie over until Thursday and then be subject to a vote without debate. The motion does not declare that the signers believe a filibuster is in progress, but merely proposes debate after each senator who so desires has an hour to discuss the bill and all amendments.

"IT HAS CERTAINLY BEEN A BLESSING TO ME," SAYS MRS. FOX

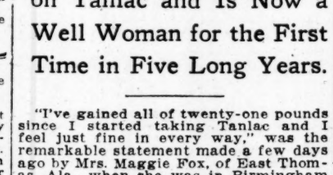

Gains Twenty-One Pounds on Tanlac and Is Now a Well Woman for the First Time in Five Long Years.

"I've gained all of twenty-one pounds since I started taking Tanlac and I feel just fine in every way," was the remarkable statement made a few days ago by Mrs. Maggie Fox, of East Thomas, Ala., when she was in Birmingham talking to the Tanlac representative.

"I suffered for five long years," continued Mrs. Fox. "My stomach was in an awful condition and I could hardly eat anything without suffering agony afterward. I never enjoyed a meal during all that time and I was as nervous as a kitten and couldn't bear any noise or excitement. I got so weak I wasn't able to do anything around the house and fell off in weight until I didn't weigh but ninety-five pounds. I tried everything I ever heard of and had all sorts of treatment, but nothing did me a bit of good and I just kept on getting worse and worse until I began on Tanlac.

"I was convinced that this medicine would help me after I had read about and known of so many people who had been helped, and it certainly has done me a world of good. My appetite's splendid now and I can eat anything I want without the least bit of suffering and I'm as strong and healthy as I ever want to be. Why, I do all my own housework and just feel fine and full of energy all the time. Tanlac has certainly been a blessing to me and I'm glad to recommend it to anybody who is suffering like I was, for I know it will bring them the same relief it did me."

AMUSEMENTS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Lyric.)

Out of five acts on the Lyric theater's bill for the first half of the week there are three excellent numbers, which, with two fairly good ones, make up an entertaining evening of song, comedy and music.

Harrington Reynolds and Marion Forbes, in "The Haberdashery," which is largely a burlesque on models and haberdashery, furnishes great fun for the audience. This is a high rate Keith act, and besides having a setting that is worth mention, there are a bunch of pretty models with shapely limbs.

Reynolds is an Englishman who has been given a haberdashery store by his wealthy parents in order that he may have something to do. He knows quite a deal of golf, but little of store business. When Marion Forbes, taking the role of "Kitty, of the Rosenbaum Store," calls to sell him some of the latest creations, illustrating them before his eyes with pretty girls as models, quite naturally he forgets golf for the time.

Next in line for praise come Wayne and the Warren Girls, trio of songsters and entertainers. The act is a clever one, and contains some good songs, while the lines of one of the Warren sisters have plenty of punch and bring many a laugh.

Work and Ower, tumblers of the funfurnishing type, stage some really marvelous acrobatic stunts. Their comedy "pranks" cause quite a bit of amusement.

TILLOU FORBES.

Loew Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

Enthusiasm reached a high point at the Grand theater yesterday afternoon and last night when the quartet, drill squad and band of the Fifth regiment appeared upon the Grand stage, to stimulate recruiting in Atlanta on the eve of the departure of "Atlanta's Own" to Macon.

Great crowds were present at all performances, and unbounded enthusiasm was shown at all performances, especially at the first evening performance, when the band was present. At the other two only the drill squad and the quartet were on the stage.

The enthusiasm, however, was tinged by sorrow, which was shown in the tears in the eyes of many women, when the quartet was singing "Advance, America," to the tune of "Dixie."

For there were many there who, while they hoped it would be true that "when the war is won and the world set free, we'll hie us back across the sea"—the words of the song—still had a mind's eye picture of the horrors of war and the trials before the boys of the Fifth.

The presence of the Fifth regiment lads was, of course, the dominant feature of the day, and the theater was decorated with the national colors for the occasion. The stage settings and the lighting effect, directed by Manager Ed Schiller, were all that could be desired.

The soldier boys are surrounded by a fair bill of vaudeville, the feature number being the act of "The Little Caruso Company," singers, as the title would indicate, and dancers, too, in that the company offers a toe dancer of merit, and a violinist who pleased.

Bob Lee, a magician, gets a good many laughs from the audience through the kind assistance of a little boy he brings on the stage from the audience. Outside of the lad, the audience didn't like his act any more than he said he liked certain features himself.

Two other acts, a man and a girl in songs and chatter, and two contortionists, complete the bill.

ROBERT MORAN.

Viola Dana.

(At the Strand.)

Picturesque Marblehead is the scene of portions of Viola Dana's Metro wonderplay "Aladdin's Other Lamp," to be seen at the Strand theater today. This delightful production has been adapted from Willard Mack's playlet, "The Dream Girl." "Patsy" Smith, the little drudge at "The Fisherman's Rest," Mrs. Duff's boarding house for sailors, takes refuge from her dreary work in wanderings over the rocky cliffs. Here she meets the knight of her dreams, Harry Hardy, the grocer's boy, who is trying to be like Abraham Lincoln. The final realization of their hopes is charmingly portrayed.

Mae Murray.

(At Alamo No. 2.)

Mae Murray, the charming photoplay actress in Paramount pictures, is now appearing in "At First Sight," a decidedly novel production, the theme of which is the trials of an attractive young girl desperately in love with an author. The latter is extremely absorbed with his latest novel, which his publishers demand at an early date.

The fascinating manner in which she brought him to a realization of the fact that he was also very much in love with her and their abrupt and romantic marriage make up a photoplay that stands apart as a production of more than ordinary interest. "At First Sight" will be the attraction at the Alamo No. 2 theater today. "Restivo," the accordionist, will appear at all afternoon and evening shows.

"The Witching Hour."

(At the Criterion.)

"The Witching Hour," Augustus Thomas' famous play, has been screened by the Frohman Amusement corporation, under the able direction of George Irving, and will be seen at the Criterion theater today and Wednesday. The screening of this production has been awaited with much interest by the public. It is rarely that one meets with a photo-play production which has been staged with greater fidelity to detail, than has been employed in the making of "The Witching Hour." It is in seven parts and with over 2,500 scenes it has crowded the theaters wherever played and received most unusual reviews by critics in the east.

Dorothy Dalton.

(At the Vaudette.)

William S. Hart.

(At the Odeon.)

"The Desert Man" is the Odeon attraction today. "The Desert Man" is, of course, William S. Hart. It could suggest no one else. The big Westerner gives another of his vigorous characterizations in a Triangle-Ince play, bristling with action and set in wide vistas of picturesque desert country. The story concerns a man of will, who comes to the little town of Broken Hope, so called because of its desolate, dilapidated condition and the hopelessness of its inhabitants. He takes charge of its affairs, drives out the town bully, and rechristens the place Bellevinville, denoting a new era in its life.

Cuticura Makes Most Remarkable Healment of Eczema on Little Girl At a Cost of $2.75.

"My little girl broke out on her head and face in blisters. Her scalp was a solid eruption and as red as could be, running a watery fluid that would mat her hair together. Her hair all came out and the eruption came on her ears so that she could not hear anyone speak to her. It itched so we had to tie her hands at night, and she could not sleep at all at times.

"I tried treatment after treatment and spent over a hundred dollars but all failed. This lasted three years until I saw Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised and purchased them, and when I had used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment and three cakes of Cuticura Soap she was healed." (Signed) J. H. Burdette, Pittsview, Ala., Dec. 3, 1916.

If your skin is already healthy and clear keep it so by using Cuticura Soap for toilet purposes assisted by touches of Cuticura Ointment to soothe and heal any tendency to irritation, redness or roughness of the skin or scalp.

For Free Sample Each by Return Mail address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. H, Boston." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c.

THESE PEOPLE SHOWED GOOD JUDGMENT

During the past twelve months a number of people have been taking advantage of cash bargains offered in residences at less than value.

Following the recent fire we had the satisfaction of handing to several owners checks for more insurance money than the entire property cost.

The old rule of buying any standard article when it is offered at less than cost of production is a good one. Especially is it wise to obey this rule when the article purchased yields a fair rate of income.

Business Strength

Do you know just how strong you are—in business possibilities—or how weak? Many a business man, through habit, plays the game haphazard.

It's better to know just what your full strength is, so that when the time comes—and it may come any day—you will be prepared to use it.

That's the kind of knowledge you get from an accurate audit. You know just how you stand and can see what to do in any emergency.
